Louisiana Coast Is Braced for Hurricane Betsy

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Thousands of refugees streamed inland today from Louisiana's exposed coastal areas as Hurricane Betsy, fresh from an attack on Florida, churned relentlessly closer.

The vanguard of 100,000 residents of southern Louisiana and eastern Texas packed cars and trailers and headed north — away from possible killer tides and 140 mile an hour winds.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau urged them to evacuate quickly before rising tides cut off escape by land.

At 10 a.m., Betsy was 183 miles south, southeast of the mouth of the Mississippi River and moving west northwest through the Gulf of Mexico at 18 miles an hour.

"Betsy is expected to continue moving about 18 miles per hour and turn to a northwesterly course today," a Weather Bureau advisory said. "Not much change in size or intensity is indicated."

Evacuation of Cameron Parish—where 500 persons died in a 1957 hurricane—began at 9:30 a.m. Officials there said all residents would be gone by late afternoon.

Cattle from the marsh areas were being hauled out by truck. Black and red hurricane warning flags were flying from the mouth of the Mississippi River west to Galveston, Tex.

Few in Florida would miss her. Betsy left most of the Miami-Ft. Lauderdale-Florida Keys area without power and with ruined crops, flooded homes. It washed away several fishing camps in the Keys, sank boats and did damage that can't yet be computed but was initially put at least $100 million.

Three lives were also lost. This was considered a relatively light toll as the storm's six-foot tides were second only to the record 10-foot tides of 1926 that put a damp end to Florida's great 20s land boom.

Workers on the spidery-legged oil towers far off the Louisiana coast already were shutting down operations.

While Betsy was more of a destroyer than a killer, it did not appear the damage would match that of last year's hurricane, Cleo, which also hit southern Florida.

But the Bahamas, where communications had been knocked out since Sunday, reported heavy property losses as reports came in from the Out Islands, to Nassau, capital of the archipelago.

Exclusive clubs of the very rich on Eleuthera and Nassau's New Providence were struck hard. But no one was reported killed in the Bahamas although the hurricane's center had lain just off the shore of New Providence for over 12 hours.

Nassau's shops, which live off the spending of American tourists, were without electricity but were opened for business. Damage there was estimated at $500,000.

Betsy took all Wednesday to pass over the tip of the Florida peninsula. The high onshore winds pushed six-foot tides over low-lying areas, swamping Miami's posh Key Biscayne with its expensive villas under three feet of water.

$4 Billion Foreign Aid Bill Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $4-billion foreign aid appropriation has cleared the House after administration forces beat back Republican moves to withhold help from India and Pakistan.

Such a cutback would invite Communist China to enter the war on Pakistan's side, Democrats argued before passing the bill on a 239-143 roll call vote late Wednesday and sending it to the Senate.

Besides, administration supporters said, the State Department already has announced a suspension of military aid to the battling countries and said no economic help will be given without consultation with congressional leaders.

The attempt to ban aid until the fighting stops was spearheaded by Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, who coupled it with a proposal to cut $285 million from the bill's total.

In another action, the House approved without debate and by voice vote a ban on aid to any nation whose ships carry war supplies or strategic material to Cuba or North Vietnam.

Shipment of nonmilitary cargo also could result in a suspension of economic aid if the President so decides.

'Official Business' Noted by Patrolman

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — A Richmonder, in a hurry, left his car in a no-parking zone with the note: "I'm on official business."

When he returned there was a ticket on his windshield and on it the policeman had written: "So am I."

LBJ Swaps GOP Leader 'Rabbit for a Horse'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson appears to have traded Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen a rabbit for a horse in an exchange of political favors.

Johnson got the horse Wednesday when the Senate Judiciary Committee approved by a 14-2 vote a House-passed bill which would abolish over the next three years the 41-year-old national origins system of immigration.

From the President's viewpoint the horse may be somewhat spavined by a provision that would limit Western Hemisphere immigration to 120,000 individuals yearly. But otherwise Johnson is reported to believe the horse is satisfactorily sound.

Dirksen got what his best friends and ardent supporters hesitate to describe other than as a rabbit — a proposed constitutional amendment on legislative reapportionment.

The Republican leader is credited with being a hard bargainer most of the time. His difficulty in this case was that he was in desperate straits to keep his proposal alive in the hope that he can inflate support for it on another day.

The Dirksen proposal would permit state voters to determine whether one house of their legislature should be apportioned on other than a population basis. This would nullify in part the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote decision.

The Republican leader once got the proposal before the Senate but couldn't get it adopted because support for it was eight votes short of the required two-thirds majority.

Starting all over again, Dirksen got a judiciary subcommittee to approve it. But he was up against an 8-8 tie vote by which the full committee previously had rejected the proposed amendment.

To change that lineup, the GOP leader moved in to block committee action on the immigration bill although he said he favored passage of the later measure.

Because Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Judiciary Committee opposes the immigration measure, Dirksen was in a position to get recognition from the chair to talk as long as he chose to balk a committee vote.

Dirksen got his proposal approved by a 9-7 vote when Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., reluctantly broke the deadlock. Dodd explained he did this only because if he didn't, the immigration measure would have been "seriously jeopardized."

While Dirksen kept his proposal alive by getting it on the calendar, he had to promise in advance not to bring it up until next year.

By that time so many state legislatures will have been reapportioned on a population basis that few of them seem likely to have much interest in ratifying a constitutional amendment on the question, even if it were sent to them by Congress.

Angered Marine Killed in Action

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I am only 23-years-old and one hell of a lot too young to die for the likes of people who condemn those who try to keep their country and their way of life safe."

This was part of a letter written by a young Marine in Okinawa, published in the Philadelphia Bulletin last Easter Sunday. The Marine, Pfc. Frank Heniss, complained bitterly about demonstrations in the U.S. against the government's intervention in Viet Nam.

Wednesday, the Defense Department notified Heniss' wife, Elaine May, 23, that her husband had been killed in action against the Viet Cong.

India, Pakistan Clash On 2 New Warfronts

75 U.S.-Made Tanks 'Lost'

U.N. Aide Arrives On Peace Mission

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian and Pakistani troops fought heavy engagements on two new fronts in northern and southern Pakistan today. India claimed 75 Pakistani tanks—all American made — were destroyed in a 24-hour period.

In Rawalpindi, a Pakistani spokesman claimed both drives were stopped cold. But India said its forces were advancing on both fronts, in the Sialkot sector in the north and in the Gadr area 600 miles to the south, in southeast Pakistan where it launched invasions Wednesday.

There were these other diplomatic developments:

—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant arrived in Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital, on his mission to seek a cease-fire. He said the situation was serious.

—Premier Amr Abass Hoveida of Iran flew into Turkey to consult with Turkish officials on Pakistan's appeal to them for military help. All three nations are members of the Central Treaty Organization, an anti-Communist alliance with which the United States is associated.

An Indian communique, reporting the claim that 114 Pakistani tanks had been destroyed since Sept. 1, spoke in general terms of the battles.

However, the tenor of the Indian Defense Ministry statement indicated India had gone on the defensive in the Lahore sector, 60 miles south of Sialkot.

A Pakistani army spokesman said Pakistani forces had pushed "a lot of miles" into India.

A Pakistani government spokesman claimed that Indian army, navy and air operations had been brought to "a standstill" and Pakistani forces had made "tactical gains on all fronts including Lahore." He said Pakistan's armed forces had "stabilized" their positions on all fronts.

The Indian Defense Ministry reported "fierce fighting" was in progress in the "Lahore sector." (Continued on Page Two)

Students Obey Edict on Dress

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — Teen-agers have returned to junior and senior high school scrubbed and neat to comply with a ban on sandals, skirts above the knee, "wild hairdos" and general sloppiness.

Provincetown, on the tip of Cape Cod, attracts thousands of tourists each summer of all types including the beatniks, and beatnik dress and behavior was beginning to rub off on the hometown teen-agers, school officials said.

Before school opened, they published a code of dress and behavior in a local newspaper. Today, School Supt. Arthur Malchman said, "The boys and girls really looked nice—there were even some sport coats and ties."

Klan Ordered To Produce Data

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two Ku Klux Klan leaders were under orders to produce records of the secret organization today for a special three-judge federal court.

They are Charles H. Christman of Amite, grand dragon of the Original Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and Saxon Farmer of Bogalusa, grand titan.

In previous appearances before the court, both men said they know of no records. They were given 48 hours to "refresh your memory."

Moving under the new Civil Rights Act, the Justice Department is asking an injunction bidding the klan to attack or harass any Bogalusa citizens who disagree with klan policy.

U.S. Eyes Role Of Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials take seriously the possibility that Communist China may intervene in the India-Pakistan war to the extent of stirring up border trouble on India's northeast frontier.

The Chinese purpose, it is believed here, would be to demonstrate support for Pakistan and thus encourage that country to break its alliances with the United States and other Western powers and move into the Red Chinese orbit.

Pakistan is a member of the U.S.-backed Central Treaty Organization alliance in the Middle East and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. Pakistan's chief allies, the United States and Britain, are, like the Soviet Union, pursuing middle-of-the-road policies in the India-Pakistan conflict and concentrating their efforts on trying to get a cease-fire.

China already has come out squarely on Pakistan's side and its public declarations in recent days have developed an increasingly tougher tone toward India.

On Aug. 27 the Chinese Reds issued a long series of charges of border violations by Indian troops on the Chinese frontier. Two days ago China accused India of aggression against Pakistan and declared it was strengthening its own China-India border defenses.

Wednesday the Chinese released a note to the Indian government charging four Indian boundary violations in July and five in August and linking them to the "aggression" against Pakistan.

The note said the incidents occurred "at a time when the Indian government was carrying out armed suppression against the people of Kashmir and unleashing and expanding its armed aggression against Pakistan."

Such statements could be used by the Chinese Communist leadership to provide a political base for military action against India at any time. U.S. officials, however, do not now foresee any large-scale Red Chinese attack on India. They do not

No Soviet Observer To See Gemini Shot

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has declined an invitation to have an observer at the launching of spacecraft Gemini 6 from Cape Kennedy next month.

Apportioning Study Slated

U.S. Court Set To Draft Plan

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Members of a special three-judge federal court plan a quick start on Ohio House reapportionment, in line with U.S. Supreme Court "one man, one vote" edicts, following failure of the legislature to act on an order to do the job.

Judges expect to confer on a plan of action, possibly Friday upon the return of the chief judge of the U. S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals from Nashville where he served on a panel working to apportion the Tennessee House.

Actual work on an Ohio plan probably will await convening of the Circuit Court in Cincinnati next month, U.S. District Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton said after receiving a letter from House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, which said:

"It is with real regret I report to you the 106th General Assembly has now adjourned sine die without successfully securing an amendment to the Ohio Constitution which would have complied with your court order."

Also on the panel formulating the plan will be Judge Paul C. Weick of Akron, chief judge of the U. S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals, and U.S. District Judge John W. Peck of Cincinnati.

The three, in a decision handed down last Oct. 15, said if the legislature didn't come up with a reapportionment plan for submission to the voters Nov. 2 of this year, the federal court would take on the remapping job itself.

A Republican-dominated special legislative session last year adopted a reapportionment plan. But Democrats battled that proposal to defeat at the polls last May and the new legislature, with a narrow GOP edge in the House and an evenly divided Senate, failed to agree in repeated attempts to come up with a compromise proposal.

The new plan will have to be completed to allow time for filing by persons who wish to enter the primaries as candidates for the House next year. The filing deadline is Feb. 1, 1966.

Russia Claims U.S. Blocks Pact on Ban

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union accused the United States today of blocking agreement on a treaty to ban underground nuclear tests in order to continue development of its own tactical nuclear arms.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told the 17-nation disarmament conference Western insistence on an inspection system to police such a ban is merely designed "to camouflage the United States real intention — that is to bar any agreement in their field."

Thant Says U.N. Seat For Red China Necessary

OTTAWA (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant today endorsed the idea of holding a world disarmament conference under conditions that would make it possible for Communist China to take part.

He made clear also that he believes Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations as soon as possible.

Thant made his views known in a speech prepared for the 54th conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union in Ottawa. Because Thant is on a peace mission to end the fighting in India and Pakistan, the speech was read for him by his chief aide, Undersecretary C. V. Narasimhan.

The 20th session of the U.N. General Assembly opening Sept. 21 will consider the question of convening a world disarmament conference.

Thant said progress in disarmament can hardly be made

"while one of the major military powers of the world in terms of conventional weapons, which has recently become a nuclear power in its own right, does not participate in the deliberations on such a serious subject."

Referring to the absence from the U.N. of Communist China and such divided countries as Korea, Germany and Viet Nam, Thant said:

"Sometime, somehow, we must finish the job of building a world community under the United Nations consisting of all nations, regardless of ideology, regardless of size, so that all nations may be moved by the same impulse on behalf of peace, freedom and justice."

"If this should be our goal, it is obvious that we should strive to bring about, as soon as possible, universality of membership in the United Nations."

U.S. Eyes Role Of Red Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials take seriously the possibility that Communist China may intervene in the India-Pakistan war to the extent of stirring up border trouble on India's northeast frontier.

The Chinese purpose, it is believed here, would be to demonstrate support for Pakistan and thus encourage that country to break its alliances with the United States and other Western powers and move into the Red Chinese orbit.

Pakistan is a member of the U.S.-backed Central Treaty Organization alliance in the Middle East and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. Pakistan's chief allies, the United States and Britain, are, like the Soviet Union, pursuing middle-of-the-road policies in the India-Pakistan conflict and concentrating their efforts on trying to get a cease-fire.

China already has come out squarely on Pakistan's side and its public declarations in recent days have developed an increasingly tougher tone toward India.

On Aug. 27 the Chinese Reds issued a long series of charges of border violations by Indian troops on the Chinese frontier. Two days ago China accused India of aggression against Pakistan and declared it was strengthening its own China-India border defenses.

Wednesday the Chinese released a note to the Indian government charging four Indian boundary violations in July and five in August and linking them to the "aggression" against Pakistan.

The note said the incidents occurred "at a time when the Indian government was carrying out armed suppression against the people of Kashmir and unleashing and expanding its armed aggression against Pakistan."

Such statements could be used by the Chinese Communist leadership to provide a political base for military action against India at any time. U.S. officials, however, do not now foresee any large-scale Red Chinese attack on India. They do not think China would consider such action, with all the risks involved of igniting a major Asian war, to be in its own interests.

What they consider possible is more limited Chinese military action consisting of a series of frontier incidents for the essentially diplomatic purpose of promoting a breakdown in Pakistan's ties with the West and a consequent increase in Pakistan's links with China.

Even limited action by the Chinese, however, could raise serious policy issues for the United States and Britain: What actions could they take to counter Red China's apparent strategy toward Pakistan? What if any assistance or assurances could they offer India so far as its defenses against China are concerned?

Planes Bomb Nearer China

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. military spokesmen announced today that American war planes bombed a bridge 17 miles south of Red China's border with North Viet Nam. It was their closest penetration toward the Chinese frontier in the Vietnamese war.

The spokesmen said four F105 Thunderchiefs damaged the railroad bridge in the raid Wednesday and pounded two other bridges 25 and 30 miles south of the border.

The area, about 140 miles northwest of Hanoi, is an important transportation center leading to the North Vietnamese capital. U.S. pilots are trying to disrupt a railroad in the area and last month bombed within 30 miles of Red China twice.

In the ground war, U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops continued their giant sweep to clear the Viet Cong from the Batangan peninsula.

Reports from the three-day-old operation 20 miles south of Chu Lai said 148 Viet Cong had been killed, 38 captured and 100 suspects detained.

Although between 5,000 and 6,000 troops were taking part, American and Vietnamese casualties were described as light.

No other major ground activity was reported, but a U.S. Army helicopter crashed in the Mekong Delta 100 miles south of Saigon, and all members of its crew were reported killed.

The Batangan offensive was aimed at smashing a reported Communist buildup in the area 330 miles north of Saigon.

The Marines made the biggest strike Wednesday when they blew up a tunnel and killed 66 uniformed Viet Cong.

Thant said progress in disarmament can hardly be made "while one of the major military powers of the world in terms of conventional weapons, which has recently become a nuclear power in its own right, does not participate in the deliberations on such a serious subject."

Referring to the absence from the U.N. of Communist China and such divided countries as Korea, Germany and Viet Nam, Thant said:

"Sometime, somehow, we must finish the job of building a world community under the United Nations consisting of all nations, regardless of ideology, regardless of size, so that all nations may be moved by the same impulse on behalf of peace, freedom and justice."

"If this should be our goal, it is obvious that we should strive to bring about, as soon as possible, universality of membership in the United Nations."

Judges expect to confer on a plan of action, possibly Friday upon the return of the chief judge of the U. S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals from Nashville where he served on a panel working to apportion the Tennessee House.

Actual work on an Ohio plan probably will await convening of the Circuit Court in Cincinnati next month, U. S. District Judge Carl A. Weinman of Dayton said after receiving a letter from House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, which said:

"It is with real regret I report to you the 106th General Assembly has now adjourned sine die without successfully securing an amendment to the Ohio Constitution which would have complied with your court order."

Also on the panel formulating the plan will be Judge Paul C. Weick of Akron, chief judge of the U. S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals, and U.S. District Judge John W. Peck of Cincinnati.

The three, in a decision handed down last Oct. 15, said if the legislature didn't come up with a reapportionment plan for submission to the voters Nov. 2 of this year, the federal court would take on the remapping job itself.

A Republican-dominated special legislative session last year adopted a reapportionment plan. But Democrats battled that proposal to defeat at the polls last May and the new legislature, with a narrow GOP edge in the House and an evenly divided Senate, failed to agree in repeated attempts to come up with a compromise proposal.

The new plan will have to be completed to allow time for filing by persons who wish to enter the primaries as candidates for the House next year. The filing deadline is Feb. 1, 1966.

Russia Claims U.S. Blocks Pact on Bon

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union accused the United States today of blocking agreement on a treaty to ban underground nuclear tests in order to continue development of its own tactical nuclear arms.

Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin told the 17-nation disarmament conference Western insistence on an inspection system to police such a ban is merely designed "to camouflage the United States real intention—that is to bar any agreement in their field."

Thant Says U.N. Seat For Red China Necessary

OTTAWA (AP)—U.N. Secretary-General U Thant today endorsed the idea of holding a world disarmament conference under conditions that would make it possible for Communist China to take part.

He made clear also that he believes Communist China should be admitted to the United Nations as soon as possible.

Thant made his views known in a speech prepared for the 54th conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union in Ottawa. Because Thant is on a peace mission to end the fighting in India and Pakistan, the speech was read for him by his chief aide, Undersecretary C. V. Narasimhan.

The 20th session of the U.N. General Assembly opening Sept. 21 will consider the question of convening a world disarmament conference.

Thant said progress in disarmament can hardly be made "while one of the major military powers of the world in terms of conventional weapons, which has recently become a nuclear power in its own right, does not participate in the deliberations on such a serious subject."

Referring to the absence from the U.N. of Communist China and such divided countries as Korea, Germany and Viet Nam, Thant said:

"Sometime, somehow, we must finish the job of building a world community under the United Nations consisting of all nations, regardless of ideology, regardless of size, so that all nations may be moved by the same impulse on behalf of peace, freedom and justice."

"If this should be our goal, it is obvious that we should strive to bring about, as soon as possible, universality of membership in the United Nations."

Ohio Airport Drive Launched

50 Counties Send Aides to Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes' airport development program got a big sendoff today at a meeting of county and local officials.

More than 250 persons representing 50 counties turned out to hear the program explained by the governor and various state and federal officials.

Rhodes, conducting the meeting personally, said his plan to give each of Ohio's 88 counties an airport of its own or easy access to one in an adjoining county would make Ohio the leading aviation state.

He also said the program would boost the state's industrial development efforts.

He said Ohio is now negotiating with 500 industries interested in locating in the state. He said many of them would require airport facilities.

The governor appointed a five-member commission to coordinate the plan and work with the 56 counties which either lack an airport or do not have one big enough to accommodate twin-engine planes of the type used by many corporations.

Members are Gordon Peltier, commerce director who will serve as chairman; Norman Crabtree, aviation director; Albert Weiss, a Highway Department engineer; Jerry Kaltenbach, deputy commerce director, and Robert Mackin of the attorney general's office.

Crabtree distributed to the local officials booklets listing criteria and minimum standards for the airports. They include a minimum runway length of 3,500 feet and a minimum width of 150 feet for landing strips.

The state has $5 million available for airport development from the $290 million capital improvements bond issue approved by voters last May. Under the program, counties could receive a maximum state grant of $100,000 on a matching basis. The 28 counties in southeast Ohio's Appalachian region can receive up to 80 per cent, leaving only 20 per cent to be obtained from other sources.

Those 28 counties also qualify for airport aid under the federal Appalachia development program.

'Hello, Dolly' Show Going to Viet Nam

tor." An announcement said 17 Pakistani tanks had been destroyed in the past 24 hours and that the Pakistanis have been trying to "regain positions" they had lost to the Indian army.

"These attempts of theirs have been repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy," the announcement said.

The wording of the announcement made it appear that the Indians had indeed gone on the offensive after driving toward Lahore.

India claimed its forces were advancing along two other fronts opened Wednesday north and south of the flatlands battlefield. It appeared, however, that these attacks — in the Sind area east of Karachi and in the Chhamb sector of Kashmir — were designed to spread out Pakistan's 200,000-man army while India concentrated on the Lahore sector.

As the fighting raged, U.N. Secretary-General U Thant arrived in Rawalpindi, the Pakistani capital, to meet President Mohammed Ayub Khan and begin his peace mission to the two warring countries.

"Before I submit my report to the Security Council, I cannot say anything," Thant told news men during a stopover at Karachi. "I will not help to make a public statement."

More paratroopers were reported dropping during the night in both countries at points scattered across the subcontinent. Their mission apparently was sabotage.

Lionel Inventor Dies
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Joshua Lionel Cowen, 88, inventor of the Lionel electric train, died Wednesday.

The first steam-powered water pump designed to fight fire operated in England in 1829. Its debut was met with laughter from onlookers who called it the "steam squirt." Sparks from the smoke stacks of these early horse-drawn fire engines were a fire hazard themselves.

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's squirrel season opens Friday at daybreak with hunting prospects good.

Hunting hours are from daylight to dark, with a bag limit of 4 and 8 in possession.

The season will extend through Nov. 11 on private lands but end several days earlier in areas where deer hunting begins. In the southeast deer hunting zone the season extends through Nov. 6, and the northwest deer hunting zone through Nov. 8. On public lands where there is no deer hunting the season extends through Dec. 25.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A man awaiting a city bus collapsed and died of a heart attack Wednesday while several other people at the bus stop ignored his condition, police reported.

Officers said William Hergenrather, 50, of Tipp City had been awaiting a bus on West Fifth Avenue when he fell to the ground, apparently in pain. An emergency squad was called by a motorist about 20 minutes after the man collapsed. Hergenrather had been on a trial visit from the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital and employed by Goodwill Industries.

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 4-year-old boy drowned Wednesday in the unsupervised pool of the suburban Madisonville apartment house where he lived.
The victim was Jeffrey Trammell. Police said another boy ran to fetch his father when Jeffrey fell into the pool, but the man did not get her in time.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police are looking for a young woman who apparently abandoned a baby in the new federal office building after giving birth in a women's restroom.
Sp. 5 Garry Floyd, a medic with the Armed Forces Examining Station gave the newborn girl first aid after she was found in the restroom. The infant was listed in good condition at General Hospital.

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Teachers, principals and other certified employees in the Hamilton City school system are getting a $200 yearly raise retroactive to July 1.

The city board of education approved the pay hike Wednesday, saying nonteacher employees will get a $12 monthly raise, effective at the same date.

Mains was elected to the post Wednesday.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—John Law got a traffic ticket.

Ohio Highway Patrolman Richard Barton cited Law, 58, of Strasburg, for changing lanes improperly on U. S. 25 near here. Law posted $25 bond on the ticket Tuesday.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A site at the southwest corner of Broad and High streets, across the street from the Statehouse, has been recommended for construction of a new $5 million, 15 to 16-story Ohio Health Department office building.

The site, recommended to Gov. James A. Rhodes by the Ohio Health Department Building Committee Wednesday, includes the state-owned Wyandotte Building now used by many state agencies. The building has been described as obsolete.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—President Chung Hee Park ordered a thorough investigation today into a series of terrorist attacks on opponents of his government.

An explosion early today shattered windows in the home of Yoo Ok-woo, chairman of the opposition Minjung party's central standing committee.

Tuesday night an explosion shattered the gate at the home of an editor of the opposition newspaper Donga Ilbo and four unidentified men beat up the production chief of a radio station run by the newspaper.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Preliminary approval by the Chilean Senate early today virtually assured passage of a bill empowering President Eduardo Frei to partially nationalize more than $1 billion worth of U.S. copper holdings.

Frei's government will purchase 51 per cent of the stock of the Kennecott Company's Chilean subsidiary and 25 per cent of the stock of the subsidiaries of the Cerro and Anaconda companies. The companies also have agreed to an expansion program to make Chile the world's No. 1 producer by 1970.

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—A plan to solve Greece's political crisis by holding elections under an interim rightist government has collapsed and King Constantine now may seek a coalition.

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Some Hungarian factories, concerned by a high number of industrial accidents, are administering breath tests to determine if their workers have been drinking before beginning their shifts.

Radio Budapest said a recent test at a local factory disclosed that 13 workmen had imbibed before going to work at 6:30 a.m.

LONDON (AP)—Baroness Spencer-Churchill has painted the first coin bearing a portrait of her late husband, Sir Winston Churchill.

She started a motor Wednesday at the Royal Mint to turn out the first five-shilling piece, worth about 70 cents. It is the first British coin to bear the likeness of a commoner in addition to that of the sovereign.

NEW YORK (AP)—British stars Joan Collins and Anthony Newley are the parents of a second child, a boy born Wednesday at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

They named the 7-pound, 1-ounce infant Alexander. Their daughter, Tara, is 2.

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Crown Prince Harald of Norway begins an extended visit to the United States Friday.

The 28-year-old bachelor will visit Washington, Norfolk, Va., Madison, Wis., Minneapolis and Rochester, Minn., Omaha, Neb., Houston, Tex., and Cape Kennedy Fla.

Cloud Named By Governor As Auditor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Roger Cloud, Ohio House Speaker, has been appointed state auditor by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes announced the appointment today and said he had accepted the resignation of Chester W. Goble, effective Sept. 20. Goble has been auditor for 10 months on an interim basis, since the death of Roger Tracy.

Cloud, Republican from DeGraff, Logan County, was speaker during five sessions of the general assembly. His term as auditor runs until January 1967 and Rhodes said Cloud will seek a full four-year term next year.

Commenting on the resignation of Goble, Rhodes said: "Following the untimely death of Roger Tracy last year, I asked General Goble to conduct the office of state auditor until the right man could be found. The general agreed to serve on a temporary basis and has done an outstanding job. I thank him and compliment him."

The appointment of Cloud was no surprise. He has been mentioned as a possible successor to Goble since adjournment last week of the 106th General Assembly.

Rhodes said of the new appointee, "Roger Cloud has done an outstanding job as an eight-term member of the Legislature. His dedication to the people of Ohio is legend."

Goble is a former Ohio Adjutant General.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A man awaiting a city bus collapsed and died of a heart attack Wednesday while several other people at the bus stop ignored his condition, police reported.

Officers said William Hergenrath, 50, of Tipp City had been awaiting a bus on West Fifth Avenue when he fell to the ground, apparently in pain.

An emergency squad was called by a motorist about 20 minutes after the man collapsed. Hergenrath had been on a trial visit from the Chillicothe Veterans Hospital and employed by Goodwill Industries.

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 4-year-old boy drowned Wednesday in the unsupervised pool of the suburban Madisonville apartment house where he lived.

The victim was Jeffrey Trammell. Police said another boy ran to fetch his father when Jeffrey fell into the pool, but the man did not get there in time.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police are looking for a young woman who apparently abandoned a baby in the new federal office building after giving birth in a women's restroom.

Sp. 5 Garry Floyd, a medic with the Armed Forces Examining Station gave the newborn girl first aid after she was found in the restroom. The infant was listed in good condition at General Hospital.

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Teachers, principals and other certified employees in the Hamilton City school system are getting a $200 yearly raise retroactive to July 1.

The city board of education approved the pay hike Wednesday, saying nonteacher employees will get a $12 monthly raise, effective at the same date.

GREENFIELD, Ohio (AP)—John T. Mains Jr., Republican nominee for mayor of Greenfield is the new chairman of the Highland County Republican Executive Committee, succeeding the late Albert L. Daniels, who died Aug. 10.

Mains was elected to the post Wednesday.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — John Law got a traffic ticket.

Ohio Highway Patrolman Richard Barton cited Law, 58, of Strasburg, for changing lanes improperly on U. S. 25 near here. Law posted $25 bond on the ticket Tuesday.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A site at the southwest corner of Broad and High streets, across the street from the Statehouse, has been recommended for construction of a new $5 million, 15 to 16-story Ohio Health Department office building.

The site, recommended to Gov. James A. Rhodes by the Ohio Health Department Building Committee Wednesday, includes the state-owned Wyandotte Building now used by many state agencies. The building has been described as obsolete.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—President Chung Hee Park ordered a thorough investigation today into a series of terrorist attacks on opponents of his government.

An explosion early today shattered windows in the home of Yoo Ok-woo, chairman of the opposition Minjung party's central standing committee.

Tuesday night an explosion shattered the gate at the home of an editor of the opposition newspaper Donga Ilbo and four unidentified men beat up the production chief of a radio station run by the newspaper.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Preliminary approval by the Chilean Senate early today virtually assured passage of a bill empowering President Eduardo Frei to partially nationalize more than $1 billion worth of U.S. copper holdings.

Frei's government will purchase 51 per cent of the stock of the Kennecott Company's Chilean subsidiary and 25 per cent of the stock of the subsidiaries of the Cerro and Anaconda companies. The companies also have agreed to an expansion program to make Chile the world's No. 1 producer by 1970.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A plan to solve Greece's political crisis by holding elections under an interim rightist government has collapsed and King Constantine now may seek a coalition.

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Some Hungarian factories, concerned by a high number of industrial accidents, are administering breath tests to determine if their workers have been drinking before beginning their shifts.

Radio Budapest said a recent test at a local factory disclosed that 13 workmen had imbibed before going to work at 6:30 a.m.

LONDON (AP) — Baroness Spencer-Churchill has minted the first coin bearing a portrait of her late husband, Sir Winston Churchill.

She started a motor Wednesday at the Royal Mint to turn out the first five-shilling piece, worth about 70 cents. It is the first British coin to bear the likeness of a commoner in addition to that of the sovereign.

NEW YORK (AP) — British stars Joan Collins and Anthony Newley are the parents of a second child, a boy born Wednesday at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

They named the 7-pound, 1-ounce infant Alexander. Their daughter, Tara, is 2.

LBJ Signs Bill Creating New Cabinet Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today legislation creating a new Department of Housing and Urban Affairs and called it "a wise, just and progressive measure for all America."

Speaking before a large group of mayors, members of Congress and other officials in the White House flower garden, Johnson said the legislation is the first step toward organizing our system for a more rational response to the pressing challenge of urban life.

Johnson delayed announcement of his selection to head the new department which will be the 11th Cabinet post.

Speculation has centered on Robert C. Weaver, director of the Housing and Home Finance Agency which is the core of the new department.

If Weaver is appointed and confirmed by the Senate he would be the first Negro ever to serve in a president's Cabinet.

The President hasn't even hinted at his choice, however, and others have been mentioned in rumors, among them Robert C. Wagner, who is not seeking re-election as mayor of New York, and Albert Rains, an Alabama Democrat who specialized in housing legislation while a member of the House.

The new department supplants the Housing and Home Finance Agency and puts under one roof urban-oriented programs now scattered among several government departments.

The Federal Housing Administration and the Federal National Mortgage Association are among the subagencies that will be absorbed. Unlike the others, these two will retain their names and identities.

If Weaver gets the top job, a mayor or another city official is likely to be appointed undersecretary. The department also will have four assistant secretaries and a general counsel.

Johnson Asks Formula To Banish Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked the National Crime Commission Wednesday to draft for him "a blueprint for effective action to banish crime."

Johnson addressed members of the commission, headed by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, in the White House Cabinet Room.

Johnson said "the problems of crime do not yield to easy answer," but "today I am challenging you to find them."

Johnson said he wants answers to these questions:

Why one-third of all parolees revert to crime.

Why one man breaks the law and another, living in the same circumstances, does not.

Why drug addiction is increasing among youth.

Why organized crime continues to expand, despite best efforts to prevent it.

Why juvenile delinquency knows no economic or educational boundaries.

"And when you find the 'whys' then I will see that corrective action is taken," Johnson said.

"I pledge you and I pledge to the nation: The full resources of this government will be behind you."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My daughter is 21 years old and weighs 86 pounds. Her usual weight was 120 pounds. She has just stopped eating anything. I know that mothers are always accused of stuffing their children with food but I have forced her to eat. How long can a girl continue to diet like this before becoming permanently sick?

Mrs. K.S. Indiana
Dear Mrs. S.: The story you tell is not a simple case of dieting. It seems to resemble a condition known as Anorexia Nervosa which technically means a "nervous loss of appetite."

Unless there is found a definite physical reason for such a marked loss of weight, your daughter's condition should be studied from the point of view of an emotional disturbance. Such patients must not be forced to eat unless their health is dangerously threatened. They seem to survive with very small amounts of food and even are in relatively good health and active despite their extreme loss of weight.

The real approach to this problem is psychotherapy. Under the direction of a psychiatrist or a well-trained psychologist, patients with Anorexia Nervosa gain a better insight into their problems and are taught to face the ones that are disturbing them.

In most patients the outlook is excellent. Sympathetic understanding and psychological support can remove the emotional distress that causes such total lack of appetite.

Do not hammer away at your daughter by insisting that she must eat to survive. It takes a great deal of control for you to avoid this.

You cannot try to solve your daughter's emotional problems without help. You are too closely involved to do so without prejudice. Under your physician's guidance and with your tolerance, your daughter will probably resume a normal eating pattern and return to good health.

My son has just returned from college because of a recent illness. He said that the doctors think he has "Mono" and should rest for a few weeks. Is "Mono" a guessing game or a real disease?

Mrs. T. T. S., Pennsylvania
Dear Mrs. S.: "Mono" is the popular term for Infectious Mononucleosis. It definitely is not a guessing game. It is a very real disease. Your son's physician had come to his decision both by physical examination and by study of the blood. Yes, Mononucleosis is a very real disease. Fortunately, there are rarely any serious complications of the disease. The symptoms of general weakness and lack of energy seem to be typical of this condition. But these symptoms can also accompany other illnesses.

It, therefore, becomes necessary to study the blood in a very special way before the diagnosis of Mononucleosis is established. The test is called the heterophile study and becomes positive at some phase of suspected Mononucleosis.

When the diagnosis is definitely made, rest, a highly nutritious diet with vitamin supplements are most important in combating the sense of weakness and the general debilitation.

Repeated heterophile studies of the blood can show the progress of improvement and indicate when your son can once more resume his normal college activity.

There was a time when "Mono" was a fashionable disease and promiscuously used to describe many other illnesses.

Mononucleosis is a very real disease, one that must be treated with the care and judgment that can only come from your physician.

The Republican Party needs recruits. A lot of the reserves are away on leave.

In general, morals are respected. They haven't had much effect on values, however.

Ike says the time is ripe for a Republican crusade to restore respect for law. He's against getting any ticket fixed by the Republican.

TW'S COURTROOM SERIES, "The Defenders," employs the services of several top-flight legal eagles to make sure their procedure is the genuine article. For one thing, the time-honored business of a judge pounding his gavel for silence is out: judges don't use gavels very often any more. For another, lawyers can't suddenly confound the opposition by producing hitherto hidden pistols or stiletto's and belting, "This is the weapon that did in Eustace Picklegrab." Introduction of hitherto unidentified evidence makes a mistrial a sure bet. BAD DURKHEIM, West Germany — The Reich Chancellor Professor Doctor Ludwig Erhard (the academic title looms large in his literature) is coming to Bad Durkheim to campaign. This is a small town in the Rhineland wine country, placid under a pale early autumn sun. Its people turn out in the kurpark — the "cure place" whose waters are supposed to be effective against rheumatism — to hail the chief architect of the German economic miracle as he comes from the train. It is rather like old-fashioned political campaigning in America before the jet age destroyed the intimacy of the whistle stop appearances.

Erhard enters the kurpark, a jolly white-haired fat man with a thick neck and pink skin. He looks a bit like Father Christmas in the Babar books for children. He waves the long cigar that is his distinctive trademark. Unlike his Social Democratic opponent, Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin, who boasts that he has taken off weight, he wants it to be known that he is the symbol of good living.

The Chancellor's speech, as it is translated for me by my companion, is run-of-the-mill stuff about prosperity and safety. Erhard is not a spellbinder. He pays no attention to the microphone, and it is not until he is halfway through that someone thinks to move it up to his mouth. The crowd is respectful, but not particularly animated. Only a few join in singing the national anthem. My companion explains to me that this has little significance, the Germans have had their surfeit of emotionalism under Hitler.

After it is over I talk to a young German medical interne. He complains that Erhard lacks force. When I ask him about Willy Brandt, he says he lacks force, too. The interne hopes the election will keep the parties more or less balanced, on the general principle that each needs the restraining influence of the other. When I suggest that this attitude might lose the election for Erhard's Christian Democrats, I am answered with a shrug of the shoulders.

To a visitor who is amazed at the continuing physical transformation of West Germany, this seems like ingratitude for everything that Erhard's party has done to let a modern economic system create its own affluence.

Germany has a savor — employment and has been forced to import workers; the porter who carried our luggage at the Frankfurt airport the other day happened to be an American from the hard-coal country of Scranton, Pa., who left home because the living is better — and more certain — in Europe for a man with only a sixth-grade education. (What ever became of America as the land of opportunity?) The big industries in Germany — Siemens (electricity), AEG Telefunken (telephone), Krupp (steel), and Daimler-Benz and Volkswagenwerk (automobiles) are right up with General Electric, IBM and Chrysler in their employment statistics. (General Motors remains, of course, in a class by itself.) If, in the face of all this,

Erhard's party is to be turned out to pasture, it will be similar to the British dismissal of Churchill during the Potsdam Conference, or to the Kaiser's dropping of the "pilot," the Iron Chancellor Bismarck, at the end of the Nineteenth Century.

It has happened many times before in history, this ingratitude of peoples. In ancient Greece they drove out Aristides because they were tired of hearing him called "the just." There is a sociological law that speaks of the "Aristidization of heroes." Erhard could become its latest victim on September 19.

If he loses, Socialists the world over will welcome the verdict with a satisfied smirk. Our "planning" economists could put up with Erhard's predecessor, Konrad Adenauer, because he was first and last a politician. But they have never forgiven Ludwig Erhard, who was Adenauer's economic minister for so many years, for his clear demonstration that the way to revive a modern economy is to let the forces of the free market go to work. Erhard killed all the old certainty of the socialists that capitalism was washed up, and even if the Social Democrats win on September 19 it will be because Erhard forced them to campaign on slogans that are bourgeois in every way.

The jolly fat man with the cigar may not speak with force. But, in his own way, he has already moved mountains.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My daughter is 21 years old and weighs 86 pounds. Her usual weight was 120 pounds. She has just stopped eating anything. I know that mothers are always accused of stuffing their children with food but I have forced her to eat. How long can a girl continue to diet like this before becoming permanently sick?

Mrs. K.S. Indiana
Dear Mrs. S.: The story you tell is not a simple case of dieting. It seems to resemble a condition known as Anorexia Nervosa which technically means a "nervous loss of appetite."

Unless there is found a definite physical reason for such a marked loss of weight, your daughter's condition should be studied from the point of view of an emotional disturbance.

Such patients must not be forced to eat unless their health is dangerously threatened. They seem to survive with very small amounts of food and even are in relatively good health and active despite their extreme loss of weight.

The real approach to this problem is psychotherapy. Under the direction of a psychiatrist or a well-trained psychologist, patients with Anorexia Nervosa gain a better insight into their problems and are taught to face the ones that are disturbing them.

In most patients the outlook is excellent. Sympathetic understanding and psychological support can remove the emotional distress that causes such total lack of appetite.

Do not hammer away at your daughter by insisting that she must eat to survive. It takes a great deal of control for you to avoid this.

You cannot try to solve your daughter's emotional problems without help. You are too closely involved to do so without prejudice. Under your physician's guidance and with your tolerance, your daughter will probably resume a normal eating pattern and return to good health.

My son has just returned from college because of a recent illness. He said that the doctors think he has "Mono" and should rest for a few weeks. Is "Mono" a guessing game or a real disease?

Mrs. T. T. S., Pennsylvania
Dear Mr. S.: "Mono" is the popular term for Infectious Mononucleosis. It definitely is not a guessing game. It is a very real disease. You son's physician had come to his decision both by physical examination and by study of the blood.

Yes, Mononucleosis is a very real disease. Fortunately, there are rarely any serious complications of the disease. The symptoms of general weakness and lack of energy seem to be typical of this condition. But these symptoms can also accompany other illnesses.

It, therefore, becomes necessary to study the blood in a very special way before the diagnosis of Mononucleosis is established. The test is called the heterophile study and becomes positive at some phase of suspected Mononucleosis.

When the diagnosis is definitely made, rest, a highly nutritious diet with vitamin supplements are most important in combating the sense of weakness and the general debilitation.

Repeated heterophile studies of the blood can show the progress of improvement and indicate when your son can once more resume his normal college activity.

There was a time when "Mono" was a fashionable disease and promiscuously used to describe many other illnesses.

Mononucleosis is a very real disease, one that must be treated with the care and judgment that can only come from your physician.

AP Education Writer
BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Sure, everyone remembers high school biology. That's the course where you cut up a dead frog.

Well, frogs are getting a new lease on life in the "new biology" which has been developed here. So are crayfish and earthworms. The emphasis has changed.

In its most radical departure from the traditional, the new biology part of curricular reform in U.S. education teaches evolution as major scientific theory, and discusses the facts of human reproduction.

Coming up soon in an early revision of the text: The biological basis for human racial differences, and the problems of human population growth.

From dead frogs to lively controversy is a natural step when you consider the knowledge explosion that has rocked the education world. Some biology being taught today is 100 years behind the times.

"Our goal is not to produce future scientists, but to make every student in effective citizen in an age of science," said Dr. Arnold Grobman, director of the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study.

"For many youngsters, this will be the last science course they have in high school. We decided the emphasis should be not so much on the facts of science, as on how you can ask questions of nature."

Although cutting up dead frogs is not part of the program, there still is heavy emphasis on laboratory work and field work.

"We give the students lab experiences where they aren't sure how things are going to turn out," Grobman said. "The students need facts, but memorization of facts isn't enough."

Unlike some of the "new" science programs, this biology has been written for the average student, with special materials prepared both for fast and slow learners.

About 70 per cent of all 10th graders study biology, compared with 41 per cent of the 11th graders studying chemistry, and 25 per cent of the 12th graders studying physics.

The project got under way on the University of Colorado campus in 1959 with a grant from the National Science Foundation to the American Institute of Biological Sciences. Grobman, who had been involved from the start, recently resigned to become dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Rutgers University this fall.

The textbooks and other materials were the joint product of university professors and high school teachers.

By the time the materials were ready for commercial publication in 1963, they had been revised several times after testing on 165,000 students in dozens of large and small high schools.

Although the materials seem to have won general acceptance, there has been some criticism of the teaching about evolution and human reproduction.

"We've had some trouble in Texas and Arizona about evolution," Grobman said. "One church group even called us Communists. Some communities won't have anything to do with the materials."

Grobman has been asked many times: "Do the biological sciences courses teach the origin of man differently from the story of creation as presented in the Bible?"

His answer: "The courses deal solely with biology and not with theology. They do not attempt to bring scientific information in conformity or in conflict with the Bible."

Grobman also says human reproduction is treated as a major biological process, and not as sex education.

Views on TV-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's new season looms ahead, but before the summer season disappears Saturday night, a look backward seems in order.

With few exceptions, the network hot weather fare offered little stimulating entertainment. CBS' "Secret Agent," a British import in the tongue-in-cheek James Bond manner, proved a rollicking adventure series.

Art Linkletter's Hollywood edition of old "Talent Scouts" — also on CBS — presented some new young talent and ran at a relaxed pace, while Carl Reiner's "Celebrity Game" proved an oasis in a desert of reruns.

Most disappointing show of the summer was CBS' highly touted "It's What's Happening, Baby," the musical variety program that was supposed to inspire school dropouts to drop in again.

The principal disaster of the period was the appearance of Frank Sinatra, along with Sammy Davis Jr. on NBC's "Tonight Show" while Joey Bishop was taking over the host chores. The inside jokes which few in the audience understood, Davis' wild foot-stomping at Sinatra's mildest stab at humor, plus rudeness shown nervous guest Sally Ann Howes made for embarrassed and boring viewing.

CBS' "Vacation Playhouse" was one of those collections of pilot films that, for the most part, demonstrated why they never found buyers. One exception seemed to be "Acres and Pains," which, with assists by Walter Matthau and Anne Jackson, showed considerable comedy promise.

If the audience reactions this summer demonstrated anything, it was that it appreciates fresh shows. "Peyton Place" not only held its popular position in the ratings, but its added weekly episode immediately jumped into Nielsen's list of top 10 shows.

Canton Strike Ends After Single Day

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — A wildcat strike of less than one day has ended at Diebold, Inc., and workers were asked to return to their jobs today.

After negotiations Wednesday night, management officials and Homer Jones, president of Boilermakers and Blacksmith Union Local 1191, asked workers to go back to work. Company officials said about 75 union members walked off their jobs after an employee was discharged. Jones said more than twice that many left their jobs.

The World Today

By G. K. HODENFIELD

AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bit-terness and heartache are ahead for thousands of Negro pupils and Negro teachers in the South, even if full school integration should proceed without incident.

The harsh fact is that years of segregated, inferior education have left them ill-prepared to cope with the higher standards they will find in previously all-white schools.

Hundreds of Negro teachers already have lost their jobs as a direct result of desegregation. Where there is a surplus of teachers, the Negro usually is first to go.

In some cases this is outright racial discrimination, and redress may be available through the courts. The federal government is keeping a close watch and is prepared to step in where discrimination can be proved.

The National Education Association, too, is pledged to fight what it calls "illegal and capricious dismissals, intimidation, and punitive transfers."

But in a tragic number of cases, it isn't discrimination. The Negro teacher just does not measure up.

Dr. Dave Darland of the NEA said recently:

"Their education is traditionally bad. They are victims of inferior elementary schools, inferior secondary schools, and inferior colleges."

"They started behind, they stayed behind, and it would take a superman to catch up."

In Florida, all teachers must now pass the National Teacher Examination as a requirement for certification. Two hundred Negro teachers have lost their jobs there because of low test scores.

Throughout the South this year, there were special summer institutes for teachers of disadvantaged children. The institutes were sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education.

Within a week after they started, it was apparent that the problem wasn't only disadvantaged children, but disadvantaged teachers as well.

The director of one such institute, herself a Negro, said in an interview:

"We had 40 Negro teachers here from four Southern states. Some of them had advanced degrees from Negro colleges."

"Only one or two could write a coherent paragraph. The level of spoken English was just as bad."

TVA Stockpiles Coal For Huge Generator

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Tennessee Valley Authority is stockpiling coal for its huge Bull Run steam plant on the Clinch River near Oak Ridge.

Bull Run will consume an estimated 2.2 million tons of coal a year — 316 tons an hour — when it is placed in operation next year. The $135-million plant will produce 900,000 kilowatts of electricity.

"It is heart-breaking to think of these teachers going back to the classroom and inflicting their ignorance on hundreds of little children."

And what of those children? The road ahead will be rocky indeed as desegregation spreads.

A Negro youngster entering the 9th grade in a previously all-white school will be at a terrible disadvantage in competition with white classmates who have had eight years of the best education available.

It will be easier, perhaps, for younger children who are integrated at the first and second grade levels. But it will be difficult to them, too, if they come from homes where they never have seen a magazine, never held a pencil in their hand, never had a story read to them.

If the Negro youngsters fail, they may become discouraged and drop out of school altogether.

And then, ironically, they will be the victims of the very civil rights law that was designed for their benefit.

Auto Contaminants Measured by Colors

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — The state says it has come up with a colorful method of measuring auto contaminants.

In the process, air is trapped in water by a special device. Color-producing chemicals are added. The water then turns red, blue, green or some other color, depending on what pollutant is being measured. The intensity of the color is measured electronically to show how much of the pollutant is in the air.

Miss Susan Cherrington Bride of Mr. James Davis

Miss Susan Kay Cherrington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Cherrington, 143 W. Union St. and Mr. James G. Davis, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, Cleveland, were united in marriage 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

The Rev. Paul Wachs performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked with gladioli and white candles.

Miss Cathy Griner, organist, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length gown of white pique with an eyelet bodice and a matching full length coat. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught to a small matching crown of nylon trimmed with seed pearls and she carried a white Bible topped with roses and white carnations. Her silver chain necklace with a cultured pearl was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Stephen Cherrington, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length dress of pink peau de soie with an over blouse of white lace. A pink velvet bow held her matching veil of pink tulle and she carried a nosegay bouquet of shasta daisies and pink carnations. Her cultured pearl necklace was a gift from the bride.

Mr. John Davis, Cleveland, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mr. Peter Cherrington and Mr. Stephen Cherrington, brothers of the bride.

Mrs. Cherrington chose for her daughter's wedding a brown crepe sheath dress with beige accessories and a corsage of yellow mums. The bridegroom's sister wore a muted plaid sheath dress with dark accessories and a corsage of yellow mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Thursday, Sept. 9, the 252nd day of 1965. There are 113 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1919, Boston police walked out on strike and voluntary police were unable to keep order. On Sept. 11, Massachusetts Gov. Calvin Coolidge made the statement, "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, any time." The phrase brought him national fame and contributed to his later election as president.

On this date In 1776, the Continental Congress directed that all colonial commissions use the words "United States" instead of "United Colonies," establishing the name of the government-to-be.

In 1850, California became the first state on the West Coast to be admitted to the Union. In 1914, the first battle of the Marne came to an end. In 1939, Nazi forces began their encirclement of Warsaw. In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur outlined his occupation policy for Japan, insisting there must be respect for the personal and property rights of the Japanese.

Ten year ago — Police in Casablanca, Morocco, fired into a crowd of demonstrators, killing five persons. Five years ago — The U.N. Security Council rejected a Soviet attempt to establish a veto power over actions of the Organization of American States.

One year ago — Hurricane Dora caused heavy destruction in the St. Augustine-Jacksonville area of Florida.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

One Mother's Problem!

DEAR ABBY: Everybody feels sorry for the poor serviceman who gets a DEAR JOHN letter. How about the fellows who bring it on themselves by not letting a girl know where she stands. I agree with some of the boys who don't want to get married while they are still in service, but how many of them keep putting it off when they come home, saying first they want a car, a place to live, money in the bank and a lot of other things? A girl will be an old woman before he marries her with all the things he wants to get first.

I am the mother of a girl who is sitting home, moping around because her "boy friend" is overseas. If I had just let her announce their engagement before he left, I would say she had something to "wait" for. Before he left he "hinted" marriage, but that doesn't mean anything. She writes him every night and she's lucky if she hears from him once in two weeks. It wouldn't surprise me if he brought home a foreign wife.

MOTHER'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: If your daughter wants to wait—that's her privilege. Don't belittle her loyalty. Mother, in some cases, it's all a service man has to come home to.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are having a dispute, and we've decided to ask you to settle it for us. My parents are coming to visit us soon and I say a good host and hostess give their guests the best sleeping quarters, even if it means giving up their own bed. My husband says that a host NEVER gives up his own bed no matter what.

HAVING WORDS
DEAR HAVING: Your husband is wrong. It depends entirely on the guest. In this case, out of respect for age (and one's parents), the guests should rate the Number One accommodations.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law complains because my son goes fishing and plays golf every chance he gets. If I were not her mother-in-law, I would say: "If you made the environment more pleasant, your husband would not want to leave the house so much. When he comes home from work tired, he doesn't want to hear complaints about the kids; he doesn't want to see dirty dishes, unmade beds, toys strewn all over, soiled diapers stacked in the bathroom; he doesn't want to see you untidy with a 'pity me' expression on your face; he doesn't want to be asked to do an errand as soon as he sets foot in the house; nor does he want to be asked what he wants for supper—he'd like to smell something appetizing cooking; he'd like for the kids to go to bed early so you and he can have some time alone. Then they'd be up earlier in the morning and so would you, and you'd get more done." Abby, would I be too hard on her by saying those things? Of course, these words will remain unspoken.

MOTHER-IN-LAW
DEAR MOTHER-IN-LAW: Good advice for those who need it—and many do. Yes, let these words remain unspoken. But if your daughter-in-law reads my column, they may not go unread.

DEAR ABBY: As a fellow newspaper gal (just a reporter) I want to say thanks for the plug you gave A.A. It is wonderful to know that you recognize the difference between people who can take a few drinks and stop and those who can't. It's discouraging to have people look at you as though you have two heads when they learn that you are a member of Alcoholics Anonymous. People like you help to remove that misconception. Thanks, too, for pointing out that A.A. has no payroll. The only "pay" we get is the privilege of relieving a lot of human suffering. But if it were not for somebody helping us, we wouldn't be able to help anyone else. Most A.A. members d more in the course of a year for nothing that a lot of people do for $10,000.

DUNKED — Dow West, a member of the Logan Elm faculty is trying out the seat on the "Dunking Machine" loaned to the school by the Kingston Fire Department for Logan Elm Day. The program of fun is scheduled Saturday at the high school.

Final Preparations Made For Logan Elm Day Activity

Logan Elm High School students are busy this week limbering up their throwing arms in preparation for "Logan Elm Day" on Saturday when they will have a chance to participate in a "Dunk the Faculty" baseball throw.

Chairman Dow West has scheduled hours for every male faculty member during the period from noon until early evening. For 10 cents and an accurate hit a faculty member will be tossed from a seat on top into an 800-gallon tank of water.

Besides the go cart rides, pony rides, bingo, basketball toss, cane toss, wheel of fortune, fish pond, dart, balloon game, skill ball and a coke bot-

Lions Hold Fall Meet

The Circleville Lion's Club met Tuesday evening at the Wardell Party Home for the first time since the summer break.

The program was presented by Miss Anita Moats, Route 4. She gave three monologues titled "Polly's First Baseball Game," "A Sad Story about Little Bo Peep" and "Phonetic Punctuation."

Forrest Thomerson, president, introduced William Brungs as a guest and led a discussion on the Pumpkin Show float and booth. Arrangements were made for members to attend the inter-club meeting at the country club in the near future.

Thomerson also announced that Robert Chapman, an active member of the club, is leaving Circleville and is transferring his membership to Newark.

Clarence Radcliffe, secretary, told about the International Convention of Lions held during the summer at Los Angeles, Calif. He also read a personal letter of sympathy from International President Walter H. Campbell regarding the death of past president Azel Laughlin of Circleville.

Red Cross Unit To Host Meeting

The Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross will entertain the Central Buckeye Council at the September meeting slated Wednesday noon at the Pickaway Arms.

The council is made up of representatives of 18 Central Ohio chapters who are responsible for the volunteer services at Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

Wednesday's meeting is open to all community residents or representatives of organizations interested in helping provide services at the hospital. Chapter board members and volunteers are urged to attend.

Luncheon reservations should be made at the chapter office no later than Monday.

Ohio Urban Universities Seek Assist

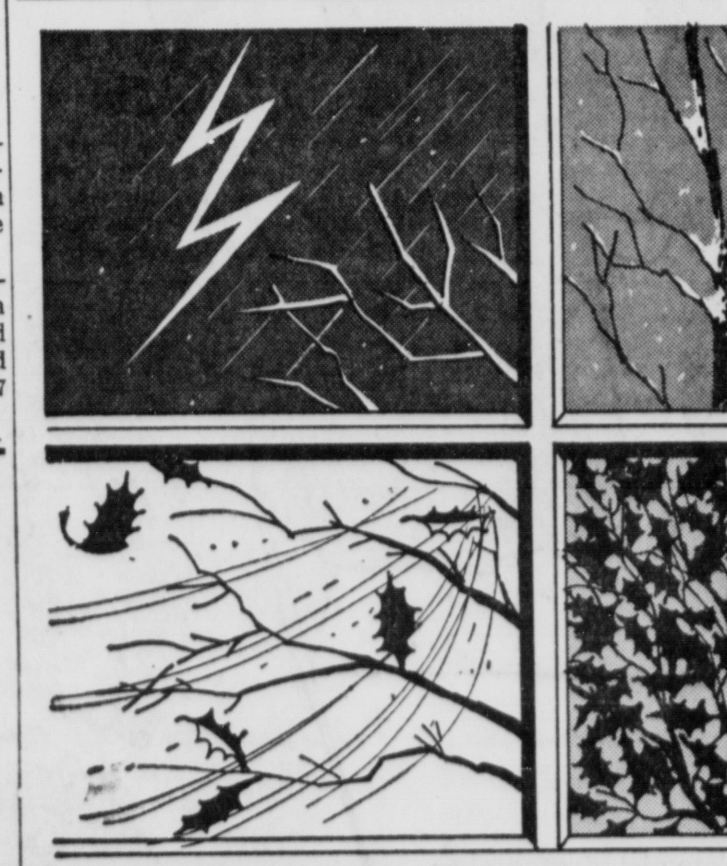

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Board of Regents heard a recommendation Wednesday that urban universities be given a bigger role in the state system of higher education than the board's master plan currently contemplates.

The recommendation was made by Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of Toledo, where the board held a hearing on the master plan. Dr. Carlson said that when the master plan was in preparation, Ohio State University was the only urban state-supported university. Since then two new ones have been added in Cleveland and Dayton, he said, and two others soon will be added, in Toledo and Akron.

Dr. Carlson also complained that the master plan recommends a $300-per-student state support factor for freshmen and sophomores in residential schools, such as Bowling Green State University, but that municipal universities also deserve $300 per student because of their high expenses.

The boy was shot in the neck with a pellet gun after he was ordered to leave Beaulieu's home, where he had been visiting Beaulieu's step-daughter.

Beaulieu told police he did not intend to hit the boy.

Would You Prefer To Spread Your Cost Of Winter Heating Over The Entire Year?

You can — with the Gas Company's Budget Payment Plan. You can avoid paying peak Gas bills — for your home — in the cold winter months. With the Budget Payment Plan, you normally pay the same amount each month. If abnormal weather conditions or other factors necessitate a change in the budget amount, your monthly payment will be adjusted. What would you pay each month? Look under "Budget Amount" on your September Gas bill. You would begin paying that amount the following month. To enjoy the advantages of the Budget Payment Plan, check the square on the back of your September Gas bill and return it to the Gas Company.

Miss America Preliminaries Under Way

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — "I have no problem keeping my shape, I have a problem keeping my weight up," says the curvy blonde who won the swim suit title in the Miss America pageant.

"I'm eating all the time and I eat anything and everything," says Patsy Puckett, the shapely 20-year-old Miss Mississippi. The University of Mississippi junior measures 35-23-35 on a 5-foot-6, 120-pound frame.

Miss Puckett was named the swim suit winner Wednesday night during the first round in the nation's oldest beauty contest.

Miss Indiana, 18, a soprano who never took a voice lesson, won the talent honors singing a medley of three songs from the hit show "Sound of Music."

Eileen Smith of Indianapolis said she began singing "when I was seven . . . ever since I first saw Roy Rogers and Dale Evans."

She has hazel eyes, auburn hair and a 34-23-34 figure.

Seventeen contestants who seek the title now held by Vonda Kay Van Dyke of Phoenix, Ariz., and the $10,000 scholarship that goes with the crown, appeared in evening gowns. But to lighten the suspense, the winners in that division are not announced.

During the three nights of preliminary competition the girls will appear in each category.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty years after an assassin's bullet struck down Kingfish Huey Long, "we've not only done most of what he advocated but we've even gone beyond it," says his son, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

The flamboyant Kingfish, whose controversial "share the wealth" politics carried him from the backwoods of northern Louisiana to the U.S. Senate, was shot Sept. 8, 1935, in Louisiana's 32-story state Capitol building at Baton Rouge. He died two days later.

"No one should be too rich and no one too poor" was the way he felt, the senator said in an interview. Sixteen at the time his father was assassinated, he is now assistant Democratic leader of the Senate.

Welfare programs, government construction of highways and hospitals, abolition of poll taxes, and free education are just some of Huey Long's programs that have long since become law, the senator said, adding that the Social Security and welfare benefits go beyond what he envisioned.

"President Johnson has said he used to come over to the Senate and listen to Huey Long speak," the senator added, "noting that a large part of the President's education and anti-poverty programs bear marked similarity to the Kingfish's ideas."

There have been differences, too. "We've tried to help people own their own homes," he said. "He tried to give it to them debt free."

Much of what Long did was extremely controversial. He was impeached by the state Assembly within a year of taking office as governor. But he lined up enough state senators behind him — the charges were due to be tried by the Senate — so the trial never took place.

When Huey Long refused to resign as governor upon election as senator, opponents accused him of being a dictator. He finally left the governorship a year later after his close friend, O. K. Allen, had been elected governor.

Central State Business Aide Is Under Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe has urged that Harry G. Johns resign as business manager of Central State University as a result of an audit which showed thousands of dollars unpaid by faculty members to the school cafeteria and uncollected tuition fees among other irregularities.

Saxbe stressed, however, that the report by the state auditor's office had noted no criminal acts. He added that the school was undertaking a separate audit at the request of trustees.

The audit showed improper admission of students in addition to the financial irregularities.

The attorney general said he plans to confer Friday or Monday with John H. Bustamante, Cleveland, president of the Central State Trustees; Robert Duncan, Saxbe's chief counsel, and John M. Wilcoxson of the State Auditor's Office.

Saxbe also said a report that he urged closing of the predominantly Negro school stemmed from the facetious remark made in a telephone conversation overheard by a newsman. He pointed out that only the legislature could close the institution, but asserted that the school was plagued with defacto segregation.

DUNKED — Dow West, a member of the Logan Elm faculty is trying out the seat on the "Dunking Machine" loaned to the school by the Kingston Fire Department for Logan Elm Day. The program of fun is scheduled Saturday at the high school.

Final Preparations Made For Logan Elm Day Activity

Logan Elm High School students are busy this week limbering up their throwing arms in preparation for "Logan Elm Day" on Saturday when they will have a chance to participate in a "Dunk the Faculty" baseball throw.

Chairman Dow West has scheduled hours for every male faculty member during the period from noon until early evening. For 10 cents and an accurate hit a faculty member will be tossed from a seat on top into an 800-gallon tank of water.

Besides the go cart rides, pony rides, bingo, basketball toss, cane toss, wheel of fortune, fish pond, dart, balloon game, skill ball and a coke bottle ring toss which will be in operation throughout the day, there will be trike and bike races beginning at 2:30 on the black top.

Ribbons will be given the winners and consolation prizes will be awarded every participant in all contests and games.

THE TRIKE races will be divided into three age groups — three-year-olds; four-year-olds; and five-year-olds.

Bike races will also be run in three age groups, for 7 and 8-year-olds; 9 and 10-year-olds; and 11 and 12-year-olds.

An exhibition baseball game has also been scheduled for the afternoon. The Logan Elm High School Band under the direction of Robert Petty will make its first appearance of the new school year in a band show at 4 p. m. The Davis Demons will also present a program at this time.

A parachute jump and a dance under the stars on the blacktop will complete the day's program. The dance will begin at 8 p. m. with music by the Calientes.

A sausage and pancake supper will be served in the school cafeteria from 5 to 7 in the evening. During the day, Mrs. Ralph Wolfe and her committee will offer typical carnival fare along with more filling foods at the refreshment booth on the grounds. "Logan Elm Day" is sponsored by the school Booster Club.

Ex-Marine Is Held For Shooting Boy, 11

CLEVELAND (AP) — Richard Beaulieu, 43, of suburban Lakewood has been charged with assault with a deadly weapon. The retired Marine was charged Wednesday in the wounding of Douglas DeMoor, 11.

The boy was shot in the neck with a pellet gun after he was ordered to leave Beaulieu's home, where he had been visiting Beaulieu's step-daughter. Beaulieu told police he did not intend to hit the boy.

Red Cross Unit To Host Meeting

The Pickaway County Chapter of the American Red Cross will entertain the Central Buckeye Council at the September meeting slated Wednesday noon at the Pickaway Arms.

The council is made up of representatives of 18 Central Ohio chapters who are responsible for the volunteer services at Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital.

Wednesday's meeting is open to all community residents or representatives of organizations interested in helping provide services at the hospital. Chapter board members and volunteers are urged to attend.

Luncheon reservations should be made at the chapter office no later than Monday.

Ohio Urban Universities Seek Assist

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Board of Regents heard a recommendation Wednesday that urban universities be given a bigger role in the state system of higher education than the board's master plan currently contemplates.

The recommendation was made by Dr. William S. Carlson, president of the University of Toledo, where the board held a hearing on the master plan. Dr. Carlson said that when the master plan was in preparation, Ohio State University was the only urban state-supported university. Since then two new ones have been added in Cleveland and Dayton, he said, and two others soon will be added, in Toledo and Akron.

Dr. Carlson also complained that the master plan recommends a $300-per-student state support factor for freshmen and sophomores in residential schools, such as Bowling Green State University, but that municipal universities also deserve $300 per student because of their high expenses.

Miss America Preliminaries Under Way

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — "I have no problem keeping my shape, I have a problem keeping my weight up," says the curvy blonde who won the swim suit title in the Miss America pageant.

"I'm eating all the time and I eat anything and everything," says Patsy Puckett, the shape-ly 20-year-old Miss Mississippi. The University of Mississippi junior measures 35-23-35 on a 5-foot-6, 120-pound frame.

Miss Puckett was named the swim suit winner Wednesday night during the first round in the nation's oldest beauty contest.

Miss Indiana, 18, a soprano who never took a voice lesson, won the talent honors singing a medley of three songs from the hit show "Sound of Music." Eileen Smith of Indianapolis said she began singing "when I was seven . . . ever since I first saw Roy Rogers and Dale Evans."

She has hazel eyes, auburn hair and a 34-23-34 figure.

Seventeen contestants who seek the title now held by Vonda Kay Van Dyke of Phoenix, Ariz., and the $10,000 scholarship that goes with the crown, appeared in evening gowns. But to heighten the suspense, the winners in that division are not announced.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty years after an assassin's bullet struck down Kingfish Huey Long, "we've not only done most of what he advocated but we've even gone beyond it," says his son, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La.

The flamboyant Kingfish, whose controversial "share the wealth" politics carried him from the backwoods of northern Louisiana to the U.S. Senate, was shot Sept. 8, 1935, in Louisiana's 32-story state Capitol building at Baton Rouge. He died two days later.

"President Johnson has said he used to come over to the Senate and listen to Huey Long speak," the senator added, "noting that a large part of the President's education and anti-poverty programs bear marked similarity to the Kingfish's ideas."

There have been differences, too. "We've tried to help people own their own homes," he said. "He tried to give it to them debt free."

Much of what Long did was extremely controversial. He was impeached by the state Assembly within a year of taking office as governor. But he lined up enough state senators behind him — the charges were due to be tried by the Senate — so the trial never took place.

When Huey Long refused to resign as governor upon election as senator, opponents accused him of being a dictator. He finally left the governorship a year later after his close friend, O. K. Allen, had been elected governor.

After Long's death, many of his associates, including Richard Leche who had been elected governor on the Long ticket in 1936, were sent to jail on various charges including fraud and income tax evasion in what became known as the "Louisiana scandals."

The Kingfish made no secret of his many relatives on the state pay roll, contending they deserved it because "they were among my political supporters of longest and most arduous service."

"By any objective standards," the senator contends, "he was the best governor Louisiana ever had. He was a doer, and he was enormously popular with the people."

"Many people have told me," Long said, "that they consider Huey Long responsible for Social Security."

"They think (President Franklin D.) Roosevelt became interested in it because he needed something to build a backfire against some of the headway Huey Long was making."

"He never told me he was planning to run for president but as a politician I could see all the signs," Sen. Long said.

"I think he figured as a third party candidate he'd run well to the left of Roosevelt and pull enough votes away from Roosevelt that the Republicans would win. Then, in four years, he'd be the Democratic candidate and would be elected."

"A lot of wealthy Republicans would have helped him. They wanted to beat Roosevelt so badly they would have helped Huey Long even though they might have created a Frankenstein. They certainly didn't agree with anything Huey Long was for."

"I just don't know if he ever would have been elected," the senator said.

At the time of his assassination, Huey Long was only 42. Like his life, Long's death stirred controversy. The alleged assassin, Dr. Carl Weiss, was shot to death by Long's bodyguards within seconds of the Kingfish's assassination and some have accused them of shooting the senator.

"There's no doubt in the world" that Weiss did it, the senator said.

In the two days that he lay dying, Long said, his father asked his doctors: "I don't know why that boy did that. Who is he? Why did he do it?"

The senator says the main reason he knows is that the judicial district which Weiss' father-in-law represented on the State Supreme Court had been restricted, forcing the judge to retire rather than face almost certain defeat. Of the idea that Weiss feared Long might accuse the family of having Negro blood, the senator said: "My father had no such idea and never cared about that."

Twenty years after Long died, his son said, a poll showed half the persons questioned regarded him as the greatest governor in the state's history. His political heirs, meanwhile, have continued to dominate the state's politics, which have generally matched the Longs against the anti-Longs.

Firestone To Peddle Mansfield Label Tire

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co. have agreed to let Firestone distribute Mansfield's Abel label tires through some 180 department store outlets.

The agreement includes Mansfield's assignment of its licenses and related releases to operate store outlets and the transfer of inventories and fixtures. In turn, Firestone will extend to Mansfield its research, advanced development and new manufacturing techniques, along with a 10-year contract for continued production in Mansfield factories.

You can — with the Gas Company's Budget Payment Plan. You can avoid paying peak Gas bills — for your home — in the cold winter months. With the Budget Payment Plan, you normally pay the same amount each month. If abnormal weather conditions or other factors necessitate a change in the budget amount, your monthly payment will be adjusted. What would you pay each month? Look under "Budget Amount" on your September Gas bill. You would begin paying that amount the following month. To enjoy the advantages of the Budget Payment Plan, check the square on the back of your September Gas bill and return it to the Gas Company.

Young Garden Rewards Sanguilys With Rich Pleasure, Hard Work

Dr. Manuel Sanguily, Route 3, Circleville, could be regarded as a newcomer to Ohio's gardening contingent.

A native of Cuba, he knows all about growing poinsettias, limes, lemons, oranges, mangoes, guavas and bougainvillea. But with roses, lilacs, peonies and lawn grass he's a beginner.

The Sanguilys moved into their home with its acre of ground one year ago this July. It was then that the doctor became a dedicated gardener.

The weedy lawn, the ailing roses, the overgrown shrubs, have responded happily to his touch. In one year he has subdued the overgrowth, brought the roses into bloom and acquired a lawn — not perfect, but one he should be very proud of.

THE DOCTOR is a gardener of verve and spirit. His enthusiasm is so contagious that his friends helped pull weeds last summer. His gardening pleasure is shared by Mrs. Sanguily. She had her own project — vegetables! Her garden is small but productive. She also has a tiny herb patch near the kitchen door.

Dr. Sanguily explained how the weeds had literally taken over the lawn. Not little things like crabgrass and chickweed, but gigantic intruders like horseweed and wild carrot.

The Sanguily's friends got into the spirit of the weed pulling and all visitors set to work with energetic goodwill. The garden editor believes this in itself to be something of a miracle.

Mrs. Sanguily, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, has an excellent vegetable garden. She raised Big Boy tomatoes and in the end was obliged to can tomato juice with her surplus.

Mary Jo says that her mother is guide and mentor for the little vegetable plot in which she has rows of carrots, beets, onions, peppers, asters and marigolds among other things.

Dr. Sanguily was saddened when he had to remove some of the planting of the former owners. The junipers, for instance, were "overwhelming" and one of the fine altheas had to go. This was at the back door. The altheas flanked the passageway and had grown so big the door was not accessible.

Mrs. Sanguily has four o'clocks that tend to re-seed and come up the following year the same color. In fact there are plenty of annuals at the Sanguilys. There is salvia along the drive and petunias and snapdragons.

Close to the back door is Mary Jo Sanguily's tiny plot of herbs. There are mint, chives, parsley and tarragon. The tarragon is having a rough time because the doctor uses it in his cooking so much that it scarcely has time to replenish itself.

And the doctor's a cook. He specializes in Cuban cookery, black beans and so forth. In fact the doctor would rather talk about his culinary achievements than his gardening.

He's not one to give away his recipes but with Mary Jo's help he wheedled out of him the rule for his sauce Bernaise. And if you're a gardener without a knowledge of how to use your tarragon, try this sauce. It is delicious, we understand, served warm with steak.

The doctor says a blender is necessary equipment for this sauce. Place four egg yolks, a pinch of cheyenne pepper and two teaspoons of fresh lemon juice in the blender. Spin it. Add one-half pound of melted butter (two sticks) slowly to mixture in blender. It then becomes a rich, thick, yellow sauce.

Leave the sauce in the blender while you place in a small skillet two tablespoons of challops chopped fine, two teaspoons dried tarragon or one teaspoon fresh tarragon also chopped, two tablespoons white Vermouth and two tablespoons tarragon vinegar.

ADD THIS to the mixture in the blender and spin for five seconds. Serve warm on meat. Two of the Sanguily children accompanied us on our tour of the garden. There is a daughter, Nina (the Spanish word for little girl) and the son, Manuel. The baby, 2-months-old, was asleep.

At one point of the tour conversation stopped while the doctor pointed out a butterfly to the youngsters. They shared their father's delight.

Dr. Sanguily figures he has about 14 roses, several of them inherited from the former owners. Some of these the Sanguilys cannot identify by name. This worries them.

One rose, The Doctor, the Sanguilys added to their list this year. "That was because of its name," Mary Jo said. "And it has hardly bloomed at all."

Dr. Sanguily is not one to like so many roses he can't decide on a favorite. His choice is Queen Elizabeth. Peace and Mirandy have both done well for him. Just previous to my visit, Kings Ransome had been beautiful. But a storm took its toll of this yellow rose.

THE SANGUILY yard is a young one. There are a few lilacs that have size and age. But the maple trees are young, the evergreens are young and even the very fruitful apple tree is still young.

VEGETABLE GROWER — In the Sanguily family it's Mary Jo who grows the vegetables and her husband Dr. Manuel Sanguily who is responsible for the lawn and ornamentals. Mrs. Sanguily is holding a sizeable tomato. She has harvested excellent vegetables from a tiny garden no bigger than a living-room carpet. She gets fine advice she says from her mother, Mrs. Robert Smith, Circle Drive.

The row of peonies near the road, we were told, were lovely in spring. These are inherited plants.

We questioned Dr. Sanguily about his lawn practices. We considered his yard an excellent one. He said he followed established rules and procedures. First they pulled out the big weeds. Then they used broad leafed weed killer, then a crabgrass killer and in a certain spot he used a super weed killer that was pretty expensive.

In April he fertilized and re-seeded grassless spots. In June he watered. In July and August he mowed. And before October he plans to fertilize and re-seed spots again.

We came away knowing that the Sanguilys had an excellent start in gardening. We also came away with the knowledge that even that first difficult year had been great fun for

Tigridia Will Fade After 1 Day

The Tigridia is a tender bulbous plant with long, narrow iris-like leaves that are crinkled or pleated.

It does in fact belong to the iris family. Bulbs are treated like gladiolus.

This is a rare flower and I know why. The lovely blossom lasts only one day. The flowers have three large petals and three small ones and are centered by a circular area that is blotched and spotted.

The name, Tigridia, meaning tiger - like, stems from this center or spotted portion of the flower. This bulb grows wild in Central America and Mexico.

TIGRIDIAS like a sunny, well drained location and a gritty, light soil. Plant them six or eight inches apart. Although the flowers last but one day they bloom in quick succession.

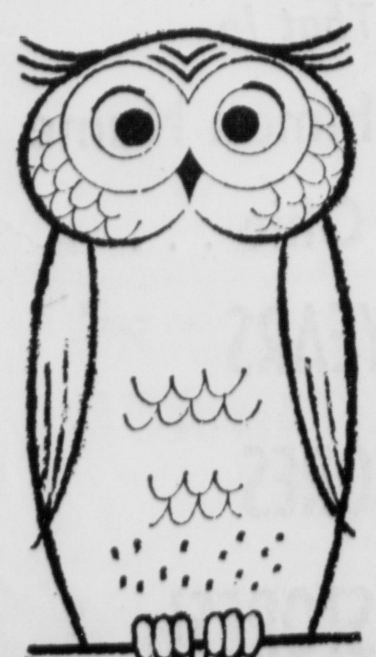

At least they are supposed to maintain a display with this successive bloom. In my garden tigridias seem to bloom once or twice and that's it!

Worth fooling with? If you have enough of them so that there will always be some blooming they are worthwhile.

They are colorful and exotic. But they are only "Queen for a Day." Then they fade.

ROSE FANCIER — Dr. Manuel Sanguily, Route 3, loves roses. He inherited several rose plants from the former owners of his present home. These he has cared for diligently and they have rewarded him with fine blossoms. His favorite rose is the Queen Elizabeth. But it is his acre lawn that has really presented a challenge. In one year's time he has succeeded in changing it from a meadow with hip high weeds to a very presentable area.

Library Has Insecticide Publication

Remember how scared we all were in 1963 and 1964 about insecticides.

We had finished Rachael Carson's "Silent Spring." In answer to the call for help from gardeners who just about had the daylight frightened out of them, Janet Gillespie produced "Peacock Manure and Marigolds," a book for home gardeners who wanted to heed the warnings of Miss Carson.

Janet Gillespie is an organic gardener who writes entertainingly. She believes in good old barnyard fertilizer.

However, she does not close her eyes to injury that pests and disease can do. She'll allow you to use nicotine, rotenone, sulphur and a few other such old fashioned things.

SHE ADVOCATES disease resistant varieties when planting. A good idea!

Janet Gillespie is a trifle on the sentimental side concerning worrisome critters like moles and rabbits. This makes for amusing reading but if the rabbits are really bugging a gardener he won't be interested in Gillespie whimsy.

This book is available in the Pickaway County District Public Library.

SUMMER POINSETTIA — Mrs. Ed Starkey, 346 Walnut St., stands behind a plant of summer poinsettia which is almost five feet high now. Its leaves are a deep maroon at first then the top leaves assume a flame red. You can spot the plant a block away. A few seeds were given her last year. Actually this poinsettia belongs to the amaranthus family. It is in all probability listed under amaranthus, molten fire. Anyway it is indeed a handsome specimen and ordinary poinsettias had better look to their laurels or this unrelated plant will steal their thunder.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. James Scott, Northridge Road, is still picking sweet peas in her garden. Sweetpeas are rare nowadays and it is interesting to know the Scotts had such a long blooming season.

Mrs. Scott was heard to remark that if she had half a cent for each weed she had pulled this year she could take a trip around the world. So could I. But at that the weeds have the upper hand.

I was wondering why my montebras had not come up. Their foliage is so like coarse grass I feel sure I pulled up the montebras along with the weeds.

My morning glory border is beginning to bloom. I never walk through the garden that I do not see one in the process of vining. I nip the vine off just above the flower buds. It has been a chore and after this I am going to let my morning glories vine if they want to do so. Of course, now I know better than to plant them in front as a border.

In one of the catalogs I read where morning glories would have eight and nine-inch flowers if their vining habits were restrained. My nipped morning glories have not had especially big flowers, but the leaves on some plants are very large.

Eloise Dunkel had a snapdragon bouquet on her table when she entertained recently.

I was told it was mighty eye-catching.

The Wenrich Stuckeys have done it again. The rows of flowers bordering their garden are nothing short of fabulous. Glads are prominent now in the planting. Many annuals are grown each year by this gardening family.

Mary Bushee of Jackson Twp. is reported to have excellent flowers of all kinds. I hear this every year, and as yet have not made it around to see her garden.

Another place I have been hearing about is that of the Andrew Thomases where I'll see petunias that really are putting on a show.

Possibly the brightest petunias I have seen are those of Bess Shidaker and her husband on Mingo St. For years their speciality was roses.

Richard Hedges, Ashville, still grows very beautiful roses. His wife told me this recently. She also told me that his rose beds had been changed.

The plumbago at the Franklin Kibbler house, 163 Watt, serves as a ground cover on a slope. How I love plumbago. It is one of the few truly blue flowers.

Mrs. Willison Leist went along with me when I paid my annual visit to the Harford Renick garden in Jackson Twp. Sunday. That's the garden where the heliotrope is so fine. Heads are 10 and 12 inches in diameter. Curiously enough, it is the white heliotrope that has the wonderful fragrance—much richer than the purple.

Harford Renick has two whole beds of Gerberas blooming at their best. When this is pronounced one uses the same "g" sound one uses when he says geranium. These huge daisy-like flowers retail for $6 a dozen. Mr. Renick grew them from seed. He plans to hold them over the winter by mulching them first with evergreen boughs and then with straw.

I saw my first true-life cross-

Use More Kraut!

Try This Recipe

If people of Ohio will eat a mite more kraut this year we'll be the nation's top ranking state in the production of kraut. So Gov. Rhodes wants us to eat more of this vitamin packed food.

More often than not cooks combine kraut and pork. Here's a recipe for kraut and beef stew to try on the family some cool evening: 1 1/4 pounds lean beef cut in 1 1/4 inch chunks, salt and pepper to taste, 2 quarts water, 5 medium sized carrots cut in large pieces, 10 small onions, 3 large celery stalks cut in two inch lengths, 1 No. 2 can kraut, 2 tablespoons all purpose flour and one-quarter cup cold water.

In a kettle combine beef chunks, salt, pepper and the two quarts of water. Simmer until beef is tender. Add carrots, onions, celery and kraut. Cook until vegetables are tender.

Add flour which has been combined with cold water. Stir until mixture is thickened. Serve piping hot.

Young Garden Rewards Sanguilys With Rich Pleasure, Hard Work

Dr. Manuel Sanguly, Route 3, Circleville, could be regarded as a newcomer to Ohio's gardening contingent.

A native of Cuba, he knows all about growing poinsettias, limes, lemons, oranges, mangoes, guavas and bougainvillea. But with roses, lilacs, peonies and lawn grass he's a beginner.

The Sanguilys moved into their home with its acre of ground one year ago this July. It was then that the doctor became a dedicated gardener.

The weedy lawn, the ailing roses, the overgrown shrubs, have responded happily to his touch. In one year he has subdued the overgrowth, brought the roses into bloom and acquired a lawn — not perfect, but one he should be very proud of.

THE DOCTOR is a gardener of verve and spirit. His enthusiasm is so contagious that his friends helped pull weeds last summer. His gardening pleasure is shared by Mrs. Sanguly. She had her own project — vegetables! Her garden is small but productive. She also has a tiny herb patch near the kitchen door.

Dr. Sanguly explained how the weeds had literally taken over the lawn. Not little things like crabgrass and chickweed, but gigantic intruders like horseweed and wild carrot.

The Sanguly's friends got into the spirit of the weed pulling and all visitors set to work with energetic goodwill. The garden editor believes this in itself to be something of a miracle.

Mrs. Sanguly, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, has an excellent vegetable garden. She raised Big Boy tomatoes and in the end was obliged to can tomato juice with her surplus.

Mary Jo says that her mother is guide and mentor for the little vegetable plot in which she has rows of carrots, beets, onions, peppers, asters and marigolds among other things.

Dr. Sanguly was saddened when he had to remove some of the planting of the former owners. The junipers, for instance, were "overwhelming" and one of the fine altheas had to go. This was at the back door. The althea flanked the passageway and had grown so big the door was not accessible.

Mrs. Sanguly has four o'clocks that tend to re-seed and come up the following year the same color. In fact there are plenty of annuals at the Sanguilys. There is salvia along the drive and petunias and snapdragons.

Close to the back door is Mary Jo Sanguly's tiny plot of herbs. There are mint, chives, parsley and tarragon. The tarragon is having a rough time because the doctor uses it in his cooking so much that it scarcely has time to replenish itself.

And the doctor's a cook. He specializes in Cuban cookery, black beans and so forth. In fact the doctor would rather talk about his culinary achievements than his gardening.

He's not one to give away his recipes but with Mary Jo's help we wheedled out of him the rule for his sauce Bernaise. And if you're a gardener without a knowledge of how to use your tarragon, try this sauce. It is delicious, we understand, served warm with steak.

The doctor says a blender is necessary equipment for this sauce. Place four egg yolks, a pinch of cheyenne pepper and two teaspoons of fresh lemon juice in the blender. Spin it. Add one-half pound of melted butter (two sticks) slowly to mixture in blender. It then becomes a rich, thick, yellow sauce.

Leave the sauce in the blender while you place in a small skillet two tablespoons of challops chopped fine, two teaspoons dried tarragon or one teaspoon fresh tarragon also chopped, two tablespoons white Vermouth and two tablespoons tarragon vinegar.

ADD THIS to the mixture in the blender and spin for five seconds. Serve warm on meat.

Two of the Sanguly children accompanied us on our tour of the garden. There is a daughter, Nina (the Spanish word for little girl) and the son, Manuel. The baby, 2-months-old, was asleep.

At one point of the tour conversation stopped while the doctor pointed out a butterfly to the youngsters. They shared their father's delight.

Dr. Sanguly figures he has about 14 roses, several of them inherited from the former owners. Some of these the Sanguilys cannot identify by name. This worries them.

One rose, The Doctor, the Sanguilys added to their list this year. "That was because of its name," Mary Jo said. "And it has hardly bloomed at all."

Dr. Sanguly is not one to like so many roses he can't decide on a favorite. His choice is Queen Elizabeth. Peace and Mirandy have both done well for him. Just previous to my visit, Kings Ransome had been beautiful. But a storm took its toll of this yellow rose.

THE SANGULY yard is a young one. There are a few lilacs that have size and age. But the maple trees are young, the evergreens are young and even the very fruitful apple tree is still young.

VEGETABLE GROWER — In the Sanguly family it's Mary Jo who grows the vegetables and her husband Dr. Manuel Sanguly who is responsible for the lawn and ornamentals. Mrs. Sanguly is holding a sizeable tomato. She has harvested excellent vegetables from a tiny garden no bigger than a living-room carpet. She gets fine advice she says from her mother, Mrs. Robert Smith, Circle Drive.

The row of peonies near the road, we were told, were lovely in spring. These are inherited plants.

We questioned Dr. Sanguly about his lawn practices. We considered his yard an excellent one. He said he followed established rules and procedures. First they pulled out the big weeds. Then they used broad leafed weed killer, then a crabgrass killer and in a certain spot he used a super weed killer that was pretty expensive.

In April he fertilized and re-seeded grassless spots. In June he watered. In July and August he mowed. And before October he plans to fertilize and re-seed spots again.

We came away knowing that the Sanguilys had an excellent start in gardening. We also came away with the knowledge that even that first difficult year had been great fun for

Tigridia Will Fade After 1 Day

The Tigridia is a tender bulbous plant with long, narrow iris-like leaves that are crinkled or pleated.

It does in fact belong to the iris family. Bulbs are treated like gladioli.

This is a rare flower and I know why. The lovely blossom lasts only one day. The flowers have three large petals and three small ones and are centered by a circular area that is blotched and spotted.

The name, Tigridia, meaning tiger-like, stems from this center or spotted portion of the flower. This bulb grows wild in Central America and Mexico.

TIGRIDIAS like a sunny, well drained location and a gritty, light soil. Plant them six or eight inches apart. Although the flowers last but one day they bloom in quick succession.

At least they are supposed to maintain a display with this successive bloom. In my garden tigridias seem to bloom once or twice and that's it!

Worth fooling with? If you have enough of them so that there will always be some blooming they are worthwhile.

They are colorful and exotic. But they are only "Queen for a Day." Then they fade.

Library Has Insecticide Publication

Remember how scared we all were in 1963 and 1964 about insecticides.

We had finished Rachael Carson's "Silent Spring." In answer to the call for help from gardeners who just about had the daylight frightened out of them, Janet Gillespie produced "Peacock Manure and Marigolds," a book for home gardeners who wanted to heed the warnings of Miss Carson.

Janet Gillespie is an organic gardener who writes entertainingly. She believes in good old barnyard fertilizer.

However, she does not close her eyes to injury that pests and disease can do. She'll allow you to use nicotine, rotenone, sulphur and a few other such old fashioned things.

SHE ADVOCATES disease resistant varieties when planting. A good idea!

Janet Gillespie is a trifle on the sentimental side concerning worrisome critters like moles and rabbits. This makes for amusing reading but if the rabbits are really bugging a gardener he won't be interested in Gillespie's whimsy.

This book is available in the Pickaway County District Public Library.

SUMMER POINSETTIA — Mrs. Ed Starkey, 346 Walnut St., stands behind a plant of summer poinsettia which is almost five feet high now. Its leaves are a deep maroon at first then the top leaves assume a flame red. You can spot the plant a block away. A few seeds were given her last year. Actually this poinsettia belongs to the amaranthus family. It is in all probability listed under amaranthus, molten fire. Anyway it is indeed a handsome specimen and ordinary poinsettias had better look to their laurels or this unrelated plant will steal their thunder.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. James Scott, Northridge Road, is still picking sweetpeas in her garden. Sweetpeas are rare nowadays and it is interesting to know the Scotts had such a long blooming season.

Mrs. Scott was heard to remark that if she had half a cent for each weed she had pulled this year she could take a trip around the world. So could I. But at that the weeds have the upper hand.

I was wondering why my montebras had not come up. Their foliage is so like coarse grass I feel sure I pulled up the montebras along with the weeds.

My morning glory border is beginning to bloom. I never walk through the garden that I do not see one in the process of vining. I nip the vine off just above the flower buds. It has been a chore and after this I am going to let my morning glories vine if they want to do so. Of course, now I know better than to plant them in front as a border.

In one of the catalogs I read where morning glories would have eight and nine-inch flowers if their vining habits were restrained. My nipped morning glories have not had especially big flowers, but the leaves on some plants are very large.

Eloise Dunkel had a snapdragon bouquet on her table when she entertained recently.

I was told it was mighty eye-catching.

The Wenrich Stuckeys have done it again. The rows of flowers bordering their garden are nothing short of fabulous. Glads are prominent now in the planting. Many annuals are grown each year by this gardening family.

Mary Bushee of Jackson Twp. is reported to have excellent flowers of all kinds. I hear this every year, and as yet have not made it around to see her garden.

Another place I have been hearing about is that of the Andrew Thomases where I'll see petunias that really are putting on a show.

Possibly the brightest petunias I have seen are those of Bess Shidaker and her husband on Mingo St. For years their speciality was roses.

Richard Hedges, Ashville, still grows very beautiful roses. His wife told me this recently. She also told me that his rose beds had been changed.

The plumbago at the Franklin Kibbler house, 163 Watt, serves as a ground cover on a slope. How I love plumbago. It is one of the few truly blue flowers.

Mrs. Willison Leist went along with me when I paid my annual visit to the Harford Renick garden in Jackson Twp. Sunday. That's the garden where the heliotrope is so fine. Heads are 10 and 12 inches in diameter. Curiously enough, it is the white heliotrope that has the wonderful fragrance—much richer than the purple.

Harford Renick has two whole beds of Gerberas blooming at their best. When this is pronounced one uses the same "g" sound one uses when he says geranium. These huge daisy-like flowers retail for $6 a dozen. Mr. Renick grew them from seed. He plans to hold them over the winter by mulching them first with evergreen boughs and then with straw.

I saw my first true-life cross-

Use More Kraut! Try This Recipe

If people of Ohio will eat a mite more kraut this year we'll be the nation's top ranking state in the production of kraut. So Gov. Rhodes wants us to eat more of this vitamin packed food.

More often than not cooks combine kraut and pork. Here's a recipe for kraut and beef stew to try on the family some cool evening: 1 1/4 pounds lean beef cut in 1 1/4 inch chunks, salt and pepper to taste, 2 quarts water, 5 medium sized carrots cut in large pieces, 10 small onions, 3 large celery stalks cut in two inch lengths, 1 No. 2 can kraut, 2 tablespoons all purpose flour and one-quarter cup cold water.

In a kettle combine beef chunks, salt, pepper and the two quarts of water. Simmer until beef is tender. Add carrots, onions, celery and kraut. Cook until vegetables are tender.

Add flour which has been combined with cold water. Stir until mixture is thickened. Serve piping hot.

County School Enrollment Stands at 4578 Students

A revised student count by Pickaway County School officials lists 4,578 pupils in the county system.

The Teays Valley District accounted for the largest number with a total of 2,254 in the elementary grades and high school. Logan Elm showed 1,169 at all schools and Westfall 1,155.

The count at Teays Valley was an increase of 34 students over last year. Logan Elm recorded the biggest increase with an additional 77 students, while Westfall had a loss of 46 students.

Pickaway County Superintendent George McDowell expressed surprise at the Westfall decrease. He feels there could be some students in the district who have not yet attended classes this year.

MCDOWELL said the county attendance officer will be assigned to investigate the decrease more closely.

Here is a complete enumeration of all the grades in the county:

Teays Valley

Ashville Elementary — Grade 1, 94; Grade 2, 103; Grade 3, 81; Grade 4, 78; Grade 5, 56; Grade 6, 62; Grade 7, 52; Grade 8, 59.

Ohio Turnpike Income Seen On Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission says increased traffic on the super-highway is expected to bring in an additional $2 million in revenue next year.

The commission reported that revenue gains will more than cover the $322,000 increase in operating costs expected in 1966. The turnpike budget is expected to exceed $6 million.

Turnpike Commissioner James W. Shocknessy, noting that on Sept. 30 the turnpike will complete its 10th year in operation, said the $600 million toll road has brought in $237 million in revenue. More than $17 million motor vehicles have passed by the toll gates.

Four oil companies were awarded contracts to supply gasoline to the turnpike's service stations. They were Socony Mobil, Gulf, Texaco and Atlantic.

Deluge of Beer Mash Hits New England City

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—Two and a half tons of beer mash broke through the tailgate of a truck this week and spilled down a hill.

Rush-hour traffic was tied up for about a mile as vehicles skidded and slipped. Firemen washed the mash off the hill but it slid down into a side street where residents had to shovel it away like slush.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

School lunch specials will be featured this weekend in many supermarkets and grocery stores, as millions of youngsters head back to classrooms.

Seasonal fruits and vegetables, including grapes and plums for the lunch bag set, are piling up at produce counters. Peach supplies are entering their seasonal decline and prices may start upward in the next two weeks, a New York wholesaler reported.

Cantaloupes will be advertised at a number of markets. In the produce departments, look for best buys in artichokes, beets, carrots, celery, onions, potatoes, peppers, radishes, grapes, plums, nectarines and watermelon.

Claim Made America Discovered by Pole

BOSTON (AP)—In a corner of the Massachusetts State House is a champion of the legend that Jan of Kolno, a Polish navigator, discovered America 16 years before Columbus.

king of Norway and Denmark. Columbus, then 25, was still in Genoa.

Like Columbus, Jan was headed elsewhere when he reached the shores of America. He had set out to investigate the fate of Norwegian colonies in Greenland.

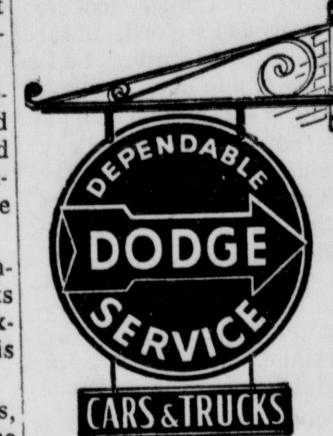

Fate intervened, Alecks claims, to keep Jan out of most history books and Columbus from being just an also-ran. Jan died on the voyage home and never could report his discovery to King Christian.

That corner is occupied by State Comptroller Joseph Alecks who served up the legend this week along with hot kielbasa, Polish ham and Jewish rye bread.

"My man should have a proper niche in our history," said Alecks, whose father emigrated to the United States from Kolno, Poland, hometown of the forgotten navigator.

To give Jan a start in attaining his place in history, Alecks unveiled a portrait of the explorer which now hangs in his office.

It was in 1476, said Alecks, that Jan sailed the ocean blue in the service of Christian I,

Peace Corps Training Is Ended at Oberlin

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP) — The third Peace Corps program closes today at Oberlin College when 25 men and women go home on leave after completing 12 weeks of training. A total of 172 volunteers have trained at Oberlin this year.

Ohio Turnpike Income Seen On Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission says increased traffic on the super-highway is expected to bring in an additional $2 million in revenue next year.

The commission reported that revenue gains will more than cover the $322,000 increase in operating costs expected in 1966. The turnpike budget is expected to exceed $6 million.

Turnpike Commissioner James W. Shocknessy, noting that on Sept. 30 the turnpike will complete its 10th year in operation, said the $600 million toll road has brought in $237 million in revenue. More than $17 million motor vehicles have passed by the toll gates.

Four oil companies were awarded contracts to supply gasoline to the turnpike's service stations. They were Socony Mobil, Gulf, Texaco and Atlantic.

Deluge of Beer Mash Hits New England City

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—Two and a half tons of beer mash broke through the tailgate of a truck this week and spilled down a hill.

Rush-hour traffic was tied up for about a mile as vehicles skidded and slipped. Firemen washed the mash off the hill but it slid down into a side street where residents had to shovel it away like slush.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
School lunch specials will be featured this weekend in many supermarkets and grocery stores, as millions of youngsters head back to classrooms.

Seasonal fruits and vegetables, including grapes and plums for the lunch bag set, are piling up at produce counters.

Peach supplies are entering their seasonal decline and prices may start upward in the next two weeks, a New York wholesaler reported.

Cantaloupes will be advertised at a number of markets. In the produce departments, look for best buys in artichokes.

Guam Gets Loan Plan

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Gov. Manuel F. L. Guerrero of Guam has signed a law allowing the government to guarantee loans up to $1.5 million for the development and construction of tourist facilities on the island.

Claim Made America Discovered by Pole

BOSTON (AP) — In a corner of the Massachusetts State House is a champion of the legend that Jan of Kolno, a Polish navigator, discovered America 16 years before Columbus.

That corner is occupied by State Comptroller Joseph Alecks who served up the legend this week along with hot kielbasa, Polish ham and Jewish rye bread.

"My man should have a proper niche in our history," said Alecks, whose father emigrated to the United States from Kolno, Poland, hometown of the forgotten navigator.

To give Jan a start in attaining his place in history, Alecks unveiled a portrait of the explorer which now hangs in his office.

It was in 1476, said Alecks, that Jan sailed the ocean blue in the service of Christian I, king of Norway and Denmark. Columbus, then 25, was still in Genoa.

Like Columbus, Jan was headed elsewhere when he reached the shores of America. He had set out to investigate the fate of Norwegian colonies in Greenland. Fate intervened, Alecks claims, to keep Jan out of most history books and Columbus from being just an also-ran. Jan died on the voyage home and never could report his discovery to King Christian.

Betsy Heads Across Gulf Of Mexico

Three barges broke loose and made the only causeway to the island impassable. Amphibious trucks were used to rescue the several hundred stranded residents who finally agreed officials had been right when they advised them to leave before the storm.

"The water came down this street like the Mississippi River on a rampage," said one resident.

Down along the chain of sandspits that are the Florida Keys, several of the inlets were completely immersed. At Sugar Loaf Key 15 miles north of Key West, water was up to the rooftops. Key West was flooded up to five feet in places and several large shrimp boats sank in the harbor.

Key Largo was whiplashed by both sides of the storm as its eye passed over.

Moon Mullin, owner of the Pilot House restaurant, waded through the water while the gales still blew to see what was left of his business.

"While I was there my station wagon floated past. On the way back to the highway, I saw a 25-foot cabin cruiser up in the woods."

Later a small tornado spiraled near Marathon overturning several trailers.

One of the dead was a woman who was hit by a flailing power line that had blown loose as she was walking head down into the hurricane. A passerby shouted a warning, but Helen Cooper, 40, failed to hear him over the storm's roar.

An elderly woman was killed in West Palm Beach when she tried to close a garage door violently swinging in the wind. Another man died of a heart attack in Homestead.

A Miami man, John Panzarello, 87, steadfastly refused to leave his home in the rising flood despite a deep fear of water. "If I die, I die at home," he said.

In the resort hotels along Miami Beach guests refused to let Betsy stand in the way of a good time even though the Roney Plaza lost 70 cabanas and an oceanfront restaurant, fish and eels swam in the basement lobby of the Fontainebleau and the chandelier in the La Ronde Room somehow dripped water. Several hotels lost windows and there were fewer neon signs.

But scheduled conventions were wired to come on down.

For the average south Floridian away from the reach of the tides, the day was spent waiting for the rains — about five inches in Miami — to stop, the tides to fall — it hit a top 105 m.p.h. in the city — and the roads to drain — Biscayne Boulevard and streets along the Miami River were under several feet of water.

Then they stepped outside to view the wreckage, which was plenty. Coconuts, palm fronds, driftwood, orange peels, old mattresses, milk cartons and almost anything else that could float or be blown were strewn on yards and in streets.

Street lights had crashed to the streets. Billboards were stripped bare, signs tilted crazily. Broken glass from shop windows cluttered Biscayne Boulevard and its stately royal palms looked like plucked ostriches.

By late Wednesday planes and buses, which had shut down for the storm, were moving again on regular schedules. Radio and television stations tuned down the rock 'n' roll to read announcements saying that schools would be open again and morning shifts today were expected back at work.

President Johnson ordered two officials of the Office of Emergency Planning to inspect the Florida damage beginning today.

4.7 Million Pupils Expected by Gotham

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — School enrollments in New York are expected to hit a record 4.7 million when the new school year begins.

The State Education Department says a total of 4.1 million pupils will enter elementary and high schools. College and university enrollments will pass the 600,000 mark.

For the average south Floridian away from the reach of the tides, the day was spent waiting for the rains — about five inches in Miami — to stop, the wind to fall — it hit a top 105 m.p.h. in the city — and the roads to drain — Biscayne Boulevard and streets along the Miami River were under several feet of water.

Then they stepped outside to view the wreckage, which was plenty. Coconuts, palm fronds, driftwood, orange peels, old mattresses, milk cartons and almost anything else that could float or be blown were strewn on yards and in streets.

Street lights had crashed to the streets. Billboards were stripped bare, signs tilted crazily. Broken glass from shop windows cluttered Biscayne Boulevard and its stately royal palms looked like plucked ostriches.

By late Wednesday planes and buses, which had shut down for the storm, were moving again on regular schedules. Radio and television stations tuned down the rock 'n' roll to read announcements saying that schools would be open again and morning shifts today were expected back at work.

President Johnson ordered two officials of the Office of Emergency Planning to inspect the Florida damage beginning today.

4.7 Million Pupils Expected by Gotham

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — School enrollments in New York are expected to hit a record 4.7 million when the new school year begins.

The State Education Department says a total of 4.1 million pupils will enter elementary and high schools. College and university enrollments will pass the 600,000 mark.

O'Toole Gets Out of His Irish Stew

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Luck of the Irish?
Not for Jim O'Toole. Irish stew would be more appropriate.

O'Toole, who's been in a stew most of his career and all of this season, fashioned a four-hitter Wednesday night as the Cincinnati Reds crushed the New York Mets and moved to within one-half game of the National League lead.

It was O'Toole's first complete game since opening day and only his second victory of the year, but then inexplicable things happen to a guy who in the past has been kicked by a horse and rapped in the face by a paddle-tennis racquet — at a Jewish Center.

A 17-game winner in 1964, O'Toole pitched well enough in spring training to earn the opening day assignment and went out and pitched a complete game against Milwaukee. But he lost. He went out time and again but was unable to win until June 16 when he was credited with the victory in a game against the Mets.

He hadn't won since when he took a 1-9 record and a 6.82 earned run average into Wednesday's game against the Mets — and in the first inning was hit on his pitching hand by a pitch thrown by Darrell Sutherland.

"Everything just seemed to go wrong for me this season — like when he hit me on the hand," said O'Toole. "I thought: Holy smoke, there it goes, and I just wondered if I'd be able to throw the baseball the next inning."

He was, and eventually marched off the mound with the organist playing "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and the Reds in a tie with the idle Los Angeles Dodgers for second place, one-half game behind front-running San Francisco.

The Giants remained on top as Willie Mays hammered his 44th and 45th homer and drove in five runs in a 12-3 walloping of Houston. Fourth-place Milwaukee fell two games behind after a 6-5 loss to Philadelphia and fifth-place Pittsburgh remained four back with a 2-1 decision over St. Louis.

In the American League, Minnesota edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2, Boston defeated Cleveland 5-3 in 10 innings, the New York Yankees nipped Washington 6-5, California downed Kansas City 5-3 in 13 innings and Detroit blanked Baltimore 5-0 after the Orioles won the opener 2-0.

Mays hit a three-run homer in the second inning and connected with one man on in the eighth, lifting his career homer total to 498. Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants while Bob Bolin scattered nine Houston hits, bringing his record to 9-5 with his first complete game of the season.

Johnny Callison and Dick Stuart drove in five of the Phillies' runs, Callison stroking a run-producing single in the third inning and a two-run single in the seventh while Stuart hit a two-run homer in the fourth. Joe Torre and Hank Aaron hit solo homers for the Braves.

Bob Friend allowed the Cardinals only four hits, bringing his record to 7-11, while the Pirates broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh when Del Crandall lashed a double off Ray Sadecki and Gene Alley followed with a single. Sadecki struck out 13 in his seven-inning stint.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. on the Tiger gridiron.

Browns Set To Look at Rookie List

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns Coach Blanton Collier plans to take a final look at some of his promising newcomers when the National Football League champs meet the Pittsburgh Steelers in the final exhibition season game for both teams Saturday night in Akron.

"We still have to give some of the new men work," Collier said Wednesday night. "That group certainly includes Erich Barnes. Also Jim Garcia and Walter Johnson."

Garcia is a rookie defensive end from Purdue and Johnson a first-year defensive tackle from Los Angeles State. Barnes, an all-pro defensive back acquired in a recent trade with the New York Giants, is working out at the strongside safety.

Barnes got his first test as a member of the Browns in the 30-14 loss to the Green Bay Packers last Saturday night. "He made some mistakes," Collier said, "but all-in-all played well."

The Browns cut their roster to 41 Wednesday by trading offensive tackle Roger Shoals to the Detroit Lions for a future undisclosed draft choice.

One more member of the club must be cut before next Tuesday.

Gary Player Shudders at Akron Rough

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Gary Player has the best World Series of Golf average at the Firestone Country Club, where he once remarked you could almost hear the rough growing.

The 7,165-yard, par-70 course has a prerequisite for accuracy and Player has averaged 71.4 strokes per round in 18 rounds at the club. This weekend he'll be one of a select foursome who will shoot 36 holes for a total purse of $77,500.

Jack Nicklaus, Masters champ, has averaged 72 strokes a round at Firestone for 24 rounds. He is the favorite against Player, U.S. Open champ, Peter Thomson, British Open titlist, and Dave Marr, PGA champ.

Top series prize is $50,000, with $15,000 for second place, $7,500 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

Play in the World Series will begin at 12 noon each day, including the practice round Friday. The final six holes on Saturday and Sunday will be televised (NBC) from 4 to 5:30 p. m. (EST).

Columbus Romps In IL Playoffs

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The Columbus Jets, fresh from bombing the Syracuse Chiefs 13-4, face third-place Toronto tonight in the International League Governors' Cup playoffs.

The Jets eliminated the fourth-place Chiefs Wednesday night in a romp sparked by Jerry May's grand-slam home run that topped off a five-run first inning.

The Jets took the series four games to two.

The Jets will be at Toronto for the first three games of their series. The remainder will be played in Columbus.

Debbie Shea Is Named to All-Star Unit

Additional honors have been awarded Debbie Shea, 14-year-old Circleville swim star. She has been selected as a member of the Central Ohio All-Star Swim Team.

Miss Shea was named to the All-Star team by a special committee appointed by the Central Ohio Swimming Assn. The selection caps a very successful season for the young miss who swims the breaststroke for the Circleville "Piranha" Swim Team.

Selection to the All-Star team was based on a swimmers record throughout the summer competitive season. Debbie won 17 firsts and four seconds in Central Ohio Competition, including second place at the Twin Towers Invitational at Grove City, first place in the Junior Olympics in Columbus, first place in the Delaware Invitational, when she set a new pool record and a new meet record, first places in the Central Ohio Swimming Assn., championship meet, at Mt. Vernon, in the 50 meter and the 100 meter breaststroke events, setting new pool records and new meet records in both events, and first place in the Champ of Champs Meet in Columbus, setting a new pool record and a new meet record.

Miss Shea, and other members of the Central Ohio All-Star Swim Team will be honored at a special banquet September 18 at the Berwick Party Home in Columbus.

The banquet is sponsored by the Central Ohio Swimming Assn. Tickets may be purchased from association officers.

night by hosting Grove City.

The visitors are coached by new mentor Chuck Brockmeyer who produced a three year record at Carroll High School of 17 wins, 10 losses and two ties.

Little is known about the visiting Greyhounds by the CHS staff. Although on the schedule last year for the first time in several years, a different attack is expected with the advent of a new coach.

Only two regulars return from the team the Tigers beat by a 14-6 count last year. They are guard Bob Jenkins and middle linebacker John Sexton. Grove City reportedly has no gridgers weighing 200 pounds or over.

CHS MENTOR Paul Starr has named his starting units for the inaugural game.

On defense, Deward Shaeffer will start at middle guard. He will be flanked by Gary Hughes and Mike Wells, the tackles. Operating at ends on the five-man line are Tom Jenkins and Mike Ramey.

The starting linebackers are John Funk, Tom Fletcher and Bill Brock. Deep backs are Steve Dade, Hodge Dade and Tim Stonerock.

The offensive unit will be Fletcher at center, Funk and Chuck Stevens at guards,

L.A. Team Labeled California Angels

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The California Angels will be one week old Friday.

The Los Angeles entry in baseball's American League officially changed its name from Los Angeles Angels to California Angels last week, in preparation for next year's move to suburban Anaheim.

The Associated Press will hereafter call the team the California Angels.

Horse and dog tracks and jai-alai frontons brought the state of Florida nearly $35 million in taxes last year, an increase of 11 per cent over 1963-64.

In addition to trophies awarded to the top four pitchers in each class, a trophy will be given for the highest qualifying score.

Mays Is Nearing 500 Homer Club

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays is on the verge of joining the exclusive 500-homer club with its membership of four, yet the San Francisco Giants' star center fielder's prime interest remains the hot pennant race in the National League.

Willie belted his 44th and 45th homers of the season Wednesday, driving in five runs as the Giants bombarded Houston 12-3 and retained the league lead they won Tuesday night at Los Angeles.

That made it 498 for Willie since he broke in with the Giants in New York back in 1951. Only Babe Ruth with 714, Jimmy Fox, 534; Ted Williams, 521, and Mel Ott, 511, are over the 500 mark.

Ramey Wins Two Pigeon Races

Pigeons from the loft of Richard Ramey have won two of three pigeon races held recently by the Circleville Pigeon Club.

Ramey's birds won a 150 mile race from Winchester, Ky., with a speed of 552.518 yards per minute, and a 200 mile futurity from Corbin, Ky. with a speed of 1,255.533 yards per minute.

A second race from Winchester, Ky., was won by Homer Kuntz of Chillicothe. One of Kuntz' birds also placed second in the race while Carl Riffel owned the third place pigeon.

Birds from Riffels loft were second in both races won by Ramey.

Outfielder - firstbaseman Orlando Cepeda missed more than three months of the 1965 season because of a bad knee. The San Francisco Giants put him on the disabled list May 7 and reactivated him Aug. 18.

O'Toole Gets Out of His Irish Stew

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Luck of the Irish? Not for Jim O'Toole. Irish stew would be more appropriate.

O'Toole, who's been in a stew most of his career and all of this season, fashioned a four-hitter Wednesday night as the Cincinnati Reds crushed the New York Mets and moved to within one-half game of the National League lead.

It was O'Toole's first complete game since opening day and only his second victory of the year, but then inexplicable things happen to a guy who in the past has been kicked by a horse and rapped in the face by a paddle-tennis racquet — at a Jewish Center.

A 17-game winner in 1964, O'Toole pitched well enough in spring training to earn the opening day assignment and went out and pitched a complete game against Milwaukee. But he lost. He went out time and again but was unable to win until June 16 when he was credited with the victory in a game against the Mets.

He hadn't won since when he took a 1-9 record and a 6.82 earned run average into Wednesday's game against the Mets — and in the first inning was hit on his pitching hand by a pitch thrown by Darrell Sutherland.

"Everything just seemed to go wrong for me this season — like when he hit me on the hand," said O'Toole. "I thought: Holy smoke, there it goes, and I just wondered if I'd be able to throw the baseball the next inning."

He was, and eventually marched off the mound with the organist playing "When Irish Eyes are Smiling" and the Reds in a tie with the Los Angeles Dodgers for second place, one-half game behind front-running San Francisco.

The Giants remained on top as Willie Mays hammered his 44th and 45th homer and drove in five runs in a 12-3 walloping of Houston. Fourth-place Milwaukee fell two games behind after a 6-5 loss to Philadelphia and fifth-place Pittsburgh remained four back with a 2-1 decision over St. Louis.

In the American League, Minnesota edged the Chicago White Sox 3-2, Boston defeated Cleveland 5-3 in 10 innings, the New York Yankees nipped Washington 6-5, California downed Kansas City 5-3 in 13 innings and Detroit blanked Baltimore 5-0 after the Orioles won the opener 2-0.

Mays hit a three-run homer in the second inning and connected with one man on in the eighth, lifting his career homer total to 498. Willie McCovey also homered for the Giants while Bob Bolin scattered nine Houston hits, bringing his record to 9-5 with his first complete game of the season.

Johnny Callison and Dick Stuart drove in five of the Phillies' runs, Callison stroking a run-producing single in the third inning and a two-run single in the seventh while Stuart hit a two-run homer in the fourth. Joe Torre and Hank Aaron hit solo homers for the Braves.

Bob Friend allowed the Cardinals only four hits, bringing his record to 7-11, while the Pirates broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh when Del Crandall lashed a double off Ray Sadecki and Gene Alley followed with a single. Sadecki struck out 13 in his seven-inning stint.

Reserve Seat Ducats For CHS Tilt on Sale

Reserve seat tickets for the Circleville - Grove City football game will be on sale at the main hall of the high school 3 until 5 p. m. today and tomorrow.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. on the Tiger gridiron.

Browns Set To Look at Rookie List

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns Coach Blanton Collier plans to take a final look at some of his promising newcomers when the National Football League champs meet the Pittsburgh Steelers in the final exhibition season game for both teams Saturday night in Akron.

"We still have to give some of the new men work," Collier said Wednesday night. "That group certainly includes Erich Barnes. Also Jim Garcia and Walter Johnson."

Garcia is a rookie defensive end from Purdue and Johnson a first-year defensive tackle from Los Angeles State. Barnes, an all-pro defensive back acquired in a recent trade with the New York Giants, is working out at the strongside safety. Barnes got his first test as a member of the Browns in the 30-14 loss to the Green Bay Packers last Saturday night. "He made some mistakes," Collier said, "but all-in-all played well."

The Browns cut their roster to 41 Wednesday by trading offensive tackle Roger Shoals to the Detroit Lions for a future undisclosed draft choice.

One more member of the club must be cut before next Tuesday.

Gary Player Shudders at Akron Rough

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Gary Player has the best World Series of Golf average at the Firestone Country Club, where he once remarked you could almost hear the rough growling.

The 7,165-yard, par-70 course has a prerequisite for accuracy and Player has averaged 71.4 strokes per round in 18 rounds at the club. This weekend he'll be one of a select foursome who will shoot 36 holes for a total purse of $77,500.

Jack Nicklaus, Masters champ, has averaged 72 strokes a round at Firestone for 24 rounds. He is the favorite against Player, U.S. Open champ, Peter Thomson, British Open titlist, and Dave Marr, PGA champ.

Top series prize is $50,000, with $15,000 for second place, $7,500 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

Play in the World Series will begin at 12 noon each day, including the practice round Friday. The final six holes on Saturday and Sunday will be televised (NBC) from 4 to 5:30 p. m. (EST).

Columbus Romps In IL Playoffs

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The Columbus Jets, fresh from bombing the Syracuse Chiefs 13-4, face third-place Toronto tonight in the International League Governors' Cup playoffs.

The Jets eliminated the fourth-place Chiefs Wednesday night in a romp sparked by Jerry May's grand-slam home run that topped off a five-run first inning.

The Jets took the series four games to two.

The Jets will be at Toronto for the first three games of their series. The remainder will be played in Columbus.

Local Pacer Wins At Montgomery Fair

Winning the Miami Valley Pacing Derby, the chestnut mare posted a time of 2:07.

Debbie Shea Is Named to All-Star Unit

Additional honors have been awarded Debbie Shea, 14-year-old Circleville swim star. She has been selected as a member of the Central Ohio All-Star Swim Team.

Miss Shea was named to the All-Star team by a special committee appointed by the Central Ohio Swimming Assn. The selection caps a very successful season for the young miss who swims the breaststroke for the Circleville "Piranha" Swim Team.

Selection to the All-Star team was based on a swimmers record throughout the summer competitive season. Debbie won 17 firsts and four seconds in Central Ohio competition, including second place at the Twin Towers Invitational at Grove City, first place in the Junior Olympics in Columbus, first place in the Delaware Invitational, when she set a new pool record and a new meet record, first places in the Central Ohio Swimming Assn. championship meet, at Mt. Vernon, in the 50 meter and the 100 meter breaststroke events, setting new pool records and new meet records in both events, and first place in the Champ of Champs Meet in Columbus, setting a new pool record and a new meet record.

Miss Shea, and other members of the Central Ohio All-Star Swim Team will be honored at a special banquet September 18 at the Berwick Party Home in Columbus. The banquet is sponsored by the Central Ohio Swimming Assn. Tickets may be purchased from association officers.

Shoe Roundup Scheduled at Fairgrounds

Qualifying rounds for the sixth annual Pickaway Ringer Roundup Horseshoe Tournament will begin Sept. 13, it was announced today by John Wilkes, tournament manager.

Qualifications will be conducted each evening from 5 until 9:30 at the Pickaway Fairground courts. They will continue through Sept. 17.

Pitchoffs in each of the seven classes will begin Sept. 20 at 5 p. m. They will continue through Sept. 26 when the Class A finals are scheduled.

Classes will be limited to eight men.

IN THE top three classes, a 50-point cancellation will be in effect. All others will be 40-point cancellation.

Ray Goodman is president of the Pickaway County Horseshoe Club which sponsors the event.

In addition to trophies awarded to the top four pitchers in each class, a trophy will be given for the highest qualifying score.

Mays Is Nearing 500 Homer Club

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays is on the verge of joining the exclusive 500-homer club with its membership of four, yet the San Francisco Giants' star center fielder's prime interest remains the hot pennant race in the National League.

Willie belted his 44th and 45th homers of the season Wednesday, driving in five runs as the Giants bombarded Houston 12-3 and retained the league lead they won Tuesday night at Los Angeles.

That made it 498 for Willie since he broke in with the Giants in New York back in 1951. Only Babe Ruth with 714, Jimmy Fox, 534; Ted Williams, 521, and Mel Ott, 511, are over the 500 mark.

Dick Fisher is returning as the varsity backfield mentor. Jim Lint is back to guide the ends and tackles on the Tiger squads while Kent Carpenter is once again tutoring the guards, centers and interior linebackers.

Freshman and reserve coach is Dale Ambros, back for the second year.

Ramey Wins Two Pigeon Races

Pigeons from the loft of Richard Ramey have won two of three pigeon races held recently by the Circleville Pigeon Club.

Ramey's birds won a 150 mile race from Winchester, Ky., with a speed of 552.518 yards per minute, and a 200 mile futurity from Corbin, Ky. with a speed of 1,255.533 yards per minute.

A second race from Winchester, Ky., was won by Homer Kuntz of Chillicothe. One of Kuntz' birds also placed second in the race while Carl Riffel owned the third place pigeon. Birds from Riffel's loft were second in both races won by Ramey.

Outfielder - firstbaseman Orlando Cepeda missed more than three months of the 1965 season because of a bad knee. The San Francisco Giants put him on the disabled list May 7 and re-activated him Aug. 18.

Woody Polishes
Buck Offense

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—College football's sojourn to near free substitution may have caught Ohio State's Woody Hayes with bated breath. Offensively bristling, the Buckeyes must put their defensive eggs in one basket—the brilliant linebacking of seniors Tom Bugel and Dwight Kelley.

Hayes, conference coaching dean starting his 15th season, not only has the smallest Buckeye squad, 58 players, but also will have five sophomore starters on his defensive unit.

Most conference coaches are packing their best, most seasoned players into defensive arrays. But Hayes has only three seniors tabbed as defensive starters, compared with eight senior offensive starters.

"You don't go to the Kentucky Derby with a workhorse," commented Hayes about apparent concentration on his attacking unit which should improve over last season when the Bucks finished second in the Big Ten.

The Bucks start their nine-game schedule Sept. 25 here against North Carolina.

Hayes claims his defense last season was the best he ever had. But the Bucks lost a half dozen starters from that unit and it's up to the Bugel-Kelley linebacking duo, plus stellar middle the defensive load this season.

Hayes predicts an improved Buckeye attack with his entire 1964 backfield returning, headed by quarterback Don Unverferth.

Also back is an all-lettermen offensive line, anchored by 236-pound guard Doug Vanhorn; a 6-foot-5 pair, 239-pound tackle Dick Anderson and 225-pound end Greg Lashutka; and 220-pound guard Tom Andrick.

Hayes has shifted halfback Tom Barrington to alternate at fullback with equally seasoned Willard Sander, with both backs for defense as corner backs.

Bo Rein is a veteran at one halfback, but at the other Hayes has installed a senior non-letter winner, Nelson Adderly, cousin of the Green Bay Packers' Herb Adderly.

Hayes concedes his compact squad on which a half dozen players may wind up both-ways performers would do better under limited substitution.

"But I like the platoon system," he said. "However I think a smaller squad brings out better coaching and it's easier to determine your traveling squad which is limited to 38 players."

Stock Prices Gain Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a slight gain early this afternoon on the heaviest trading of the week.

Selective strength in blue chips helped prop up the averages despite continued softness in steels.

Wall Street was still pondering the effects on profits of the steel labor settlement. Steel shares have been down every session since Labor Day.

Strength among nonferrous metals was linked with rising metal commodity prices caused by the hostilities in Viet Nam as well as between India and Pakistan.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 337.5 with industrials up 1.2, rails off .5 and utilities up .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.39 at 918.07.

Stock Prices Gain Slightly

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market showed a slight gain early this afternoon on the heaviest trading of the week. Selective strength in blue chips helped prop up the averages despite continued softness in steels.

Wall Street was still pondering the effects on profits of the steel labor settlement. Steel shares have been down every session since Labor Day.

Strength among nonferrous metals was linked with rising metal commodity prices caused by the hostilities in Viet Nam as well as between India and Pakistan.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 337.5 with industrials up 1.2, rails off .5 and utilities up .2.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.39 at 918.07.

Gideons Set To Speak at 26 Churches

The Columbus Chapter of Gideons will conduct a rally in Circleville and Pickaway County during the weekend of Sept. 18-19 and on Sept. 26.

Twenty-six area churches will host Gideon speakers on Sept. 19. The speakers will tell of the work done by the Gideon Assn. as well as some of the results.

The Gideons International is a

Christian business and profes-sional men's association num-bering more than 22,000 mem-bers in over 70 nations around the world. It is engaged in a program of placing Bibles in such places as hotels and hospi-tals and presenting the New Testament to such groups as military personnel, students and nurses. Up to the present time more than 60 million Bi-bles and Testaments have been placed in these areas by Gideons.

The vast program is fi-nanced by freewill contributions collected at church services, where the work of the associa-tion is presented, as well as con-tributions made by the Gideons themselves.

Artist Wins Three Awards at Piketon

Mrs. Lovenna Runyon, a prominent member of the Cir-cleville Art League and owner of a local art studio, won three ribbons and top prizes at the Fine Arts Show held last week in conjunction with the Pike County Sesquicentennial.

Mrs. Runyon received a first prize in graphics, a first in mixed media class and second in mixed media.

The show was open to anyone who resided within a 100-mile radius of Piketon.

23-YEAR CAREER ENDS — Mrs. Beulah B. Denison, a former Pickaway Countian, ended a 23-year career on her retirement from the Directorate of Procurement and Production at the Defense Electronics Supply Center, Dayton. She is a 1919 graduate of Ashville High School and started her Civil Service career two days after the attack on Pearl Harbor. A brother, Willis Liston, resides at 355 Markley Road, and another brother, Lawrence, lives at 151 Watt St. Mrs. Denison is pictured receiving a certificate of service from Rear Admiral Robert H. Northwood, USN, commander of the Defense Electronics Supply Center at Dayton.

Du Pont Co. Names Miller To Staff Post

Arnold A. Miller has been ap-pointed accounting supervisor at Du Pont's Circleville firm plant. He was transferred here from the company's Interna-tional Department.

Miller started his tenure with Du Pont in 1936 as a clerk at the Yerkes Cello-phone plant in Buffalo, N. Y. He has always worked in the accounting section.

Previous duties with the com-pany include posts as section head and day supervisor. Prior to the transfer here, he was ac-counting manager at the Du Pont plant in Luxembourg where he was assigned in 1963.

Miller served four years with the U. S. Air Force in World War II. He saw duty in Eu-rope and the Middle East.

HIS ADVANCED education was acquired at Bryant and Stratton Bu-si-ness College in Buffalo, N. Y.

The new supervisor and his wife, Judith, have two children, Gregory, 4, and Liza Anne, 9 months. They are building a new home at Lawnwood Court.
